An urgent plea for payment of state aid to small schools during the ensuing fiscal year is contained in a resolution adopted this week by the Rosendale Town Board.

Copies of the resolution, signed by Supervisor George Mollenhauer and Clerk Anna M. Auchmoedy, went to Governor Averell Harriman, Sen. Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson.

Saudi Arabia Demand Expected

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Saudi Arabia is expected to ask the United States for more airplanes, guns and military training in exchange for a five-year extension of the Dhahran airfield agreement.

The airfield has great strategic value to the United States, located as it is within 1,000 miles of Russia's southern border in the Middle East.

George Wadsworth, U. S. ambassador to Saudi Arabia, is winding up several weeks of Washington consultations. He leaves late this week or early the next for his post. There he will begin talks with King Saud on the airfield agreement. The agreement expires at midnight June 17.

Two Sides Claim Border Killings

Jerusalem, May 10 (AP)—Fresh bloodshed was reported today in incidents on both sides of the Israeli-Arab frontiers, despite the April cease-fire orders.

The Egyptians said an Israeli patrol bayoneted an Arab farmer to death 70 yards inside the Egyptian-held Gaza strip and fired on Arab national guardsmen who approached the site, wounding one.

The Israelis announced an Arab infiltrator had fired on an Israeli patrol south of Jerusalem in an area not far from the Jordan border, and was killed in an exchange of shots.

The story of the bayonetting, on which Egypt complained to the Mixed Armistice Commission, was told by an Egyptian military spokesman in Gaza City.

He said the Arab farmer and his two sons drew fire from the Israeli patrol when they walked on their farmland and the sons fled, but the farmer was caught and slain.

Egypt also complained that an Israeli plane had violated Egyptian air space over Gaza.

Sabotage of the Beersheba-Tel Aviv railway line was reported by an Israeli army spokesman in Jerusalem. He said the line was blown up last night at a point three miles north of Beersheba.

The line is an artery of commerce between Israel's Mediterranean coast and the Negev desert. Historic Beersheba lies about 15 miles west of Jordan's frontier and 25 miles east of the Egyptian-held Gaza strip.

The army spokesman said he had no details on the blast.

Three other minor incidents were reported along the Israeli-Arab frontiers, despite cease-fire pledges UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld obtained on his Middle East post mission last month.

The Israelis said automatic fire was directed against a civilian-owned truck on the Kfar Saba-Ramat Hakovsh road west of the Samaritan hills last night and trucks led toward the Jordan armistice line nearby. There were no casualties.

Two Women Die In Goshen Fire

Goshen, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Two aged sisters-in-law suffocated in their bedrooms early today when fire swept through their home.

They were Mrs. Jennie Phillips, 93, and Miss Julia Phillips, 88.

Mrs. Phillips was the widow of John S. Phillips, one of the founders of the old McClure's Magazine and editor of American Magazine for a number of years, who died in 1949.

The two women lived in the family home with Mrs. Phillips' daughter, Ruth (age unavailable), who was away at a sanatorium temporarily for treatment at the time of the fire. She, like the dead women, is a semi-invalid.

A practical nurse visited the women daily, and they had a caretaker on the property.

The fire, discovered at 2 a. m., started on the outside of the three-story frame house at 48 South street, worked its way in and south and badly damaged the interior.

Fire Chief Clarence Fraser said the fire might have started from hot ashes placed in cans alongside the house.

Bids Soviet Join In United Europe

Aachen, Germany, April 10 (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill called on the Soviet government today to show the validity of its new look by joining in a "bona fide united Europe."

The 81-year-old British statesman called on the world to avoid violence and seek unity instead as he accepted the 1954 Charlemagne "United Europe" award from this ancient coronation city of German kings.

Less than a mile away some 600 refugees from former German territories annexed by the Communists held a quiet 20-minute meeting protesting the award to Churchill.

Soviet Arms Cut Not for Peace, Dulles Declares

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today it is quite possible the Soviet Union has cut its armed forces and may reduce them more. But he said the purpose is not peace and the free world must keep its guard up.

Winding up the administration's appeal to the House Foreign Affairs Committee for a $4,900,000,000 foreign aid authorization, Dulles said nothing has yet happened in the world situation to make it "prudent to terminate or curtail" the program.

CHAIRMAN RICHARDS (D-S.C.) has said the committee may cut the authorization by as much as 1 1/2 billion dollars.

Dulles said there are some "germs of high favorable developments" in Russia. Speaking of open newspaper debate on Stalin and other issues, Dulles said these might indicate some concession to public opinion by the Soviet leaders.

"Our long range purpose," he said, "is to accelerate the day when the Soviet Union will be a (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

Highway Savings Plan Discussed

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Highways may be built more economically with a limited number of entrances and exits, a state roads official told transportation industry and public officials today.

W. A. Bugge, first vice president of the American Assn. of State Highway Officials, discussed controlled-access routes in a speech prepared for the closing session of a highway transportation convention held by the National Highway Users Conference.

BUGGE SAID the effective life of a section of highway can be prolonged by "restricting on and off movements at various points." That would reduce the need for improvement or replacement, he said, and thus cut down highway expenditures.

Bugge, who is director of highways for the state of Washington, discussed problems that state and local highway officials will face if Congress enacts a House-approved program calling for federal-state road-building outlays of 51 1/2 billion dollars over the next 13 years.

HE COMMENTED briefly on two items which kicked up a dispute before the House passed the roads bill. One would permit the secretary of labor to set prevailing local wages as the minimum for workers on interstate highways built with federal aid.

The other as accepted by the House would let states continue present practices on reimbursement of utility companies for costs of shifting their lines from projected roadbeds.

Bugge referred to a statement of policy which he said the highway officials association adopted last December. It said such topics "should not be included in federal statutes but should be matters to be determined at the state level."

Tension Brings Order to Cut Desegregation on City Buses

Montgomery, Ala., May 10 (AP)—Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones, taking note of racial tension and unrest here, yesterday ordered Montgomery City Lines to discontinue a desegregation policy on city buses.

Jones held that segregation on buses which operate solely within states has not yet been outlawed by the U. S. Supreme Court and added that nothing in the Federal Constitution prohibits it.

On these grounds, the veteran jurist ordered the bus company to "comply and abide" by city and state laws which forbid mixing of races on public conveyances.

In Chicago, vice president Benjamin W. Franklin of National City Lines, Inc., parent firm of the Montgomery Company, said: "We will obey the injunction, of course." He said no decisions had been made by the company on future legal action, if any.

The National City Lines announced it was adopting a policy of desegregation following the Supreme Court's April 23 decision from the U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. That court had held that separation of the races on Columbia, S. C., buses was unconstitutional and had sent the case back to the original trial court to determine the question of damages.

The Supreme Court's decision had been interpreted as outlawing segregation on city or intrastate buses, but some lawyers now contend it did not.

Opening Of Bridge Discussed

Possible plans to celebrate the opening of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge were advanced on Tuesday at a luncheon meeting of the dedication committee held at the Peter's Inn at Red Hook. A. Chester Haen, co-chairman for the east side of the Hudson river, presided at the meeting which followed a regular luncheon meeting of the Red Hook Rotary Club.

PREVIOUS to the committee meeting the members enjoyed an unusually interesting talk by Frederick Snyder of Kingston, well-known lecturer and columnist.

The next step will be to arrange a conference with representatives of the New York State Bridge Authority, including Ernest Heppner, the Ulster county member of the Authority, and discuss the proposed plans.

At the meeting Tuesday a check of $222.67 was turned over to Oakleigh Hamm of Red Hook, treasurer of the committee, by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce. This represents the balance turned over to the Chamber of Commerce some years ago by the original group organized to work for and support legislation which provided for the construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge.

SEVERAL sub-committees were established, together with a chairman and vice chairman of each. They were as follows: (1) Membership, Maynard Mizel of Rhinecliff, chairman; with the Rev. Paul E. Henry of Red Hook as vice chairman; (2) Brochure and Programs, Kenneth Steward of Rhinecliff, chairman; with George Berry of Kingston, vice chairman; (3) Music, Oakleigh Hamm of Red Hook, chairman; and Arthur London of Saugerties, vice chairman; (4) Liaison with Bridge Authority, James H. Betts of Kingston, chairman and Judge Clarence Traver of Rhinebeck, vice chairman; (5) Contests, Lloyd Rockefeller of Red Hook, chairman and William Bieber of Kingston, vice chairman.

Percy Bush, supervisor of the Town of Ulster, is the co-chairman of the general committee and Albert Kurdt, manager of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, is secretary. Other committees and honorary officers will be named later.

The next regular meeting of the committee will be held in Kingston on Tuesday, June 5.

$3,200,000 Bond Issue Vote Set For Saugerties

A tentative date of Friday, June 29 has been set for the vote on the $3,200,000 bond issue to finance the costs of the new central school buildings and the remodeling of existing school buildings according to an announcement by the Board of Education of Saugerties Central School District.

The date will be contingent on completion of the financial study of the Saugerties school situation by the State Department of Education.

THE DISTRICT proposed building a new junior-senior central high school on the Valley Farm site located on the northern boundary of the village and a new 1-room grade school in Mt. Marion.

Prior to the voting the plans for constructing new schools and (Continued on Page 11, Col. 5)

Bureau Is Asked To Solve Egg Problem

Ithaca, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—When eggs are sold naked should they be sold by the dozen or by the pound?

That question has been puzzling Cornell University experts who developed the idea of naked eggs—minus shells and packaged in transparent plastic.

Their idea is ready for a try-out in the market place, but the marketing experts can't figure out the problem of which way to price the eggs.

The Bureau of Weights and Measures of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets has been asked to crack it.

Divine Disciples Sell High Falls Parcel to Secors

Father Divine's disciples have sold their last parcel of land in High Falls and the property is to get a "face lifting" by the new owners.

The corner property adjacent to Quick's Hotel and Mohonk road has been conveyed by Miss Jean Bright and Miss John Truth to Chester Secor of High Falls and his brother William Secor of Nanuet, who is a building contractor.

The parcel comprises about an acre and has four buildings at present. These are to be converted into individual apartments to accommodate about 10 families.

The corner portion of the property will be reserved for business.

The transaction was handled by Charles E. Jensen of the Nathaniel B. Gross Realty Agency, 2 John street. Initial financing was arranged through the Ulster County Savings Institution, Howard C. St. John representing the bank at the closing on May 8 when the deed was delivered.

Sea Mishap Case Testimony Ends

Baltimore, May 10 (AP)—Testimony in the Federal Court trial of John H. Meckling, skipper of the ill-fated schooner Levin J. Marvel which capsized last August with the loss of 14 lives, ended yesterday.

Judge R. Dorsey Watkins, who is hearing the case without a jury, set final arguments by counsel for May 18. He indicated that because of the length and importance of the case, he would write an opinion to explain his decision.

Meckling was brought to trial on charges of negligence and misconduct in the sinking of the Marvel at the recommendation of the coast guard.

The skipper testified yesterday he had "no forward control" of the 64-year-old schooner after the sails were lost a few hours before the ship sank. But at that point, Meckling contended, he "was not in immediate trouble."

Judge Watkins asked Meckling why he didn't dump the ship's anchors and let the Marvel drift in close to shore.

Meckling replied that he couldn't get to the anchors to release them "because the foredeck was under six to eight feet of water." Asked why he didn't release them earlier, the skipper said he couldn't walk on the deck to the bow because the sea was so rough.

The Marvel was anchored in Herring Bay when it was unable to reach home port in Annapolis following a trip from the eastern shore.

Two Downtown Fires Will Be Investigated to Find Origin of Blaze

Fire Stresses Need For Housing: Yerry

George E. Yerry Jr., chairman of the Kingston Housing Authority, today called attention to the need for replacement of the sub-standard housing in the Chambers street-East Union street area which was visited by fire Wednesday afternoon and paid a tribute to the efficient manner in which the Kingston firemen handled the blaze.

Yerry said many of the properties in the area were "fire hazards" and should be removed and adequate housing provided for those residents of the area who fall in the "low income" bracket.

In a statement to The Freeman, Yerry said:

"Yesterday's fire in the East Union and Chambers street section of Kingston emphasizes the immediate need of an urban renewal plan for that area as well as immediate adequate housing to provide decent, safe homes for those families with low incomes.

"The Kingston Housing Authority has stressed the need for a urban renewal plan for the city and also to provide a plan to provide new homes for those in need. The Housing Authority's request for an additional unit was sent to the Common Council in March and has never been acted upon. We have stressed the fire hazard in that area from time to time. Kingston is indeed fortunate that yesterday's fire was handled so efficiently by the fire department. A similar night time fire could easily result in the death of many people who are compelled to live in the fire traps that exist in the area."

Critical Period Seen for NATO by Gen. Gruenther

Bonn, Germany, May 10 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther declared today that the Atlantic alliance faces a "critical period." He said Soviet military strength is increasing "all the time" while the free world has a tendency to relax.

"The people (in the West) have to understand that the answer to present Soviet policy is unity and that we must continue to build strength," he told a news conference.

Gruenther, who is retiring from his post as supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, came here for conferences with West German leaders on the progress of German rearmament.

THE GENERAL warned that "the question of public support in the period ahead is going to be more important than ever before." Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev "do not have this sort of problem and it gives them a big advantage," he added.

Gruenther stressed that the buildup of a 500,000-man West German armed force is "absolutely necessary," and added: "Time might prove that we need more ground forces than are planned now. We certainly will (Continued on Page 11, Col. 5)

Construction Men Back On Thruway Restaurants

Construction men went back to work today on nine restaurants along the New York State Thruway between Suffern and Albany, including Ulster county places at Plattekill, Modena and Ruby.

For two days they refrained from chaining picket lines set up by the chain service restaurants workers union, but the union then decided to withdraw the pickets, an Associated Press story from New York said.

The union, the report continued, is engaged in a dispute with the concessionaire for the restaurants, Hot Shoppes, Inc., of Washington, D. C., claiming it barred the union from organizing employees at one permanent restaurant and two temporary ones already in operation.

The permanent restaurant is at Malden, while the others are near Albany and Kingston.

Work on permanent facilities is under way at the two places where temporary quarters are in use.

The union is continuing to picket the restaurants which are open for business.

Crowded Saugerties High May Have Double Sessions

Double sessions for pupils of Saugerties Central High School similar to those now in effect in junior high grades may be the only alternative in solving the overcrowded conditions which will prevail in the fall when the anticipated enrollment will be 476 according to the publicity committee of the Saugerties Central School District building program.

Double sessions in junior high grades are held from 8:15 a. m. to 12:36 p. m., and from 12:36 to 4:45 p. m.

The senior high school situation is more crucial than most citizens realize, the report said. The present building is already crowded to capacity but the condition will become much worse. By 1961 the enrollment is expected to reach 739.

This information is based on actual census figures and does not include any anticipated influx. With new families moving into the area daily, this enrollment is bound to increase. En-

1961, at least six additional teachers will be needed in high school. This definitely indicates the need for more classrooms, the report said.

In the present building there are too few classrooms available for the expected increase. Every classroom is being used to capacity at present with none available for additional classes. As the enrollment increases, thus necessitating additional classes, the only alternative is double sessions. If double sessions can still be avoided in September, 1956, there is very little doubt that this would be the last year of regular sessions. Every citizen should realize that double sessions are bad for the students, parents, teachers, and the community. The students would be deprived of a proper education, would be limited in extra-curricular activities, and might acquire improper habits.

Alarms Are For Barn And Garage Of 1949 Disaster

Rondout nearly saw a repetition of the destructive fire of June 7, 1949 yesterday, when flames destroyed a barn on Ann street, swept over several other buildings, and was followed by another of separate origin a short distance from the area.

Fire Chief James M. Brett said today that the origin of both will be investigated.

INVOLVED in the first blaze was the two-story, frame barn of Edward Harrison at the rear of 22 Ann street where the fire started, a two-story, frame structure owned by Joseph Lurie, at the rear of 23 Chambers street, two frame sheds at the rear of 28 East Union street, owned by the Farber estate, a small shed owned by Max Mones, and the two-story, frame dwelling of Del Jackson, 24 East Union street.

A four-car, frame garage and loft owned by Dora Basch at the rear of 75-77 Hasbrouck avenue, and another frame structure near it were involved in the second fire, which started as the Ann street blaze was in progress.

THE EXTENT of loss in both is undetermined.

Firemen, summoned first by a bell alarm from Box 2121, East Union and Chambers streets, checked the fire before it spread seriously to the other buildings involved and to several frame structures in the immediate area. A second alarm was sounded at 1:38 p. m., and that for the fire at 75-77 Hasbrouck avenue was sounded at 2 p. m.

The fire was not far from the scene of the blaze of June 1949, when two barns were destroyed, two of five dwellings involved were badly damaged, and flames swept over smaller structures in the area. Sparks from the fire also set fire to some 20 derelict barges in the Rondout creek, and started another fire on Catherine street.

THE 1949 FIRE, like that of yesterday, also started in barns at the rear of Ann street houses. Fifteen persons were left homeless.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations, Union and Rapid hose companies and the Wicks salvage truck went out on the first alarm yesterday. Wiltwyck, Wicks Engine No. 4, and Cordts hose company answered the second, and the call for the Hasbrouck avenue fire summoned Truck 2 from Wiltwyck station and Cordts hose company, which moved from the scene of the other fire.

The fire destroyed the barn in which it originated, but damage to the Joseph Lurie, Max Mones (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Lions Hear Soper On Consolidation Of School Systems

Advantages of consolidation into a Greater Kingston School District were outlined by Superintendent Earl Soper of the Kingston school system in a talk at this week's Lions Club luncheon.

Among such advantages he listed a single tax rate, single bond issue, single state aid plan and a bonus in state aid of $200 per child not to exceed 400 children in each district.

Through consolidation better courses and a greater variety in the curriculum can be offered, he explained.

He described the basic plan of the proposed Greater Kingston District which would include 25 school districts in the Kingston area.

Oklahoma City (AP)—In 1942, two $25 war bonds were presented Taft Junior High School by music students. They were promptly framed and hung on the band room wall as a sign of the school's war effort. The other day they were discovered by the principal, W. B. Graham, who was looking over the wall decorations. He opened the frames and found a letter from 145 contributors explaining they were presented by students of instrumental music and at date of maturity should be cashed with the money going to the music department. The wishes of the donors are being carried out.

Family Program Stressed at 'Y' Banquet Tuesday

The value of a family program through the facilities afforded by the YMCA were stressed by several speakers during the annual father and son banquet Tuesday night.

About 144 persons were present for the speaking program and award presentations given to members of the various divisions.

COUNTY JUDGE Louis G. Bruhn issued a strong plea to the fathers in the audience to remain close to their sons by enrolling in the family program at the Y. He said "make pals of your sons and they will benefit greatly."

District Attorney Howard C. St. John also referred to the value of the YMCA as a step in combatting juvenile delinquency.

Among the other speakers were:

Schafer, general secretary of the Y; Clifford Smith, vice president of the YMCA board of directors; James Matthews, associate chairman with the YMCA Hi-Y Club and Joseph O'Connor, chairman of the parents club.

A CORDIAL invitation was extended to both fathers and mothers to become members of the Y. They were invited to attend the next meeting on Monday, May 14.

William Irland, physical director at the Y, gave a scheduled setup of the summer program as well as the activities for boys during the spring. He also mentioned the Y Day Camp at DeWitt Lake and told how boys could select their vacation fun, either at the Y building or at the lake.

Frank Reholl, of the Y force, also spoke briefly.

Parents who cooked and served the meal were Mrs. Raymond J. Mino, Mrs. Frank Piccoli, Mrs. Edmond Fleming, Mrs. Thomas Farrell, Mrs. James Costello, Mrs. William Seism and Mrs. Louis Schafer.

FARMERS WAIT AND WATCH

The strongest impression gained by those who have surveyed the farm belt this year is that many farmers are waiting upon a variety of events before deciding how they will vote in November.

Those events include the development of farm prices, the enactment of some kind of farm legislation by Washington, the selection of presidential nominees and their programs, and even in some cases the behavior of the weather.

All this being so, there was great fear in some Republican hearts that President Eisenhower's veto of the high rigid price support bill would bring the farmers' wrath down on GOP heads, compounding difficulties already made great by low market prices.

But some weeks have passed since this stroke and no real rebellion seems to have materialized. Republicans once plunged in gloom have perked up.

Indeed, it might be said—cautiously—that a pattern is in the making which if fully developed could put the Democrats rather than the Republicans on the defensive.

For one thing, Mr. Eisenhower softened the veto blow, of course, by announcing higher supports immediately for wheat, corn, and dairy products.

Secondly, chances have improved considerably for passage this spring of a soil bank farm bill of the sort sought by the President. Such a measure was contained in the high support proposal but died in the veto.

The new one would let farmers who take land out of cultivation get 50 per cent of the cash immediately, with the rest to follow on their fulfillment of the commitment.

Democrats said at the time of the veto there would be no other farm bill this year. But a good many now fear they may be tagged as hostile to farmers if they deny them this prospect of quick cash in a time of trouble.

Another factor has entered the picture. Certain key prices, particularly those for hogs, have been climbing slowly since early winter. Latest figures show a rise of one per cent for the month ending in mid-April.

Should this trend continue uninterrupted—even at moderate pace—a good deal of the sting in farmers' resentment may be lessened. Most farm experts on the scene of discontent believe the price factor is the greatest single item influencing the farmers' fall vote for the presidency.

The story still isn't told. The soil bank plan isn't a reality yet, and there are long months ahead to test the upward trend of prices.

But enough either has happened or come into prospect to suggest that if no important reverse factors appear the November revolt of farmers against the Republicans could be of surprisingly small proportions.

STILL A SCRAMBLE

The present Republican and Democratic campaign situations provide quite an interesting study in contrasts.

For the GOP, it is virtually all over but the shouting so far as selection of presidential and vice presidential candidates is concerned. By tradition as well as by his tremendous personal appeal, Mr. Eisenhower was assured of re-nomination the moment he announced that he would run again. Vice President Nixon has almost equal grounds for confidence that he will again be his party's choice.

The Democrats are about as far removed from that situation as it is possible for a party to be. Stevenson and Kefauver are still the front runners in a mighty contest for the presidential nomination. Numerous others stand ready—and eminently willing—to be tapped should the leading candidates cancel out one another. Still others have "available" written large upon them when the talk turns to who shall be the Democratic vice presidential choice.

In short, though the GOP standard bearers are ready for the tournament, there is

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS

In his speech before the 20th Congress of the CPSU, Nikita Khrushchev reached the thoroughly Marxist conclusion that the inevitable conflict within the capitalist world is between Great Britain and the United States. In the theory of Marxism, capitalism contains the seeds for its own destruction and one of the most explosive seeds is the competition among these countries. In World War I and World War II, the Marxists believed that they saw this principle at work, and when Lenin founded the first Marxist government, Soviet Russia, he postulated the success of his enterprise on the historic inevitability of the capitalist countries destroying each other.

Thus Khrushchev said at the 20th Congress of the CPSU: "As before, the main conflict is that between the United States and Great Britain, Anglo-American antagonism, embraces a wide range of questions. Under the 'Atlantic cooperation' slogan, the trans-Atlantic competitors are grabbing the principal strategic and economic positions of the British Empire; they are working to obtain a footing on the imperial lines of communications, smother the system of preferential tariffs, and get control of the sterling area. It is not surprising, therefore, that in Britain, and in France too, there is a growing desire to put an end to the situation in which 'Atlantic cooperation' is of advantage only to one partner."

He then went on to speak of West Germany's revival of economic power: "... The experience of two world wars shows that, in their struggle for markets, the German monopolies will stop at nothing. . . ."

Then he ends this section of his speech with the paragraph: "The problem of markets is becoming all the more acute because the frontiers of the capitalist world market are increasingly contracting as a result of the formation of the new and growing socialist world market. Besides, the underdeveloped countries, on casting off the colonial yoke, begin the development of their own industry which inevitably leads to a further narrowing of markets for industrial products. All this means that the struggle for markets and spheres of influence will become still sharper within the imperialist camp."

The essence of this doctrine is that the United States and Great Britain, in their struggle for markets, must knock each other out, as two wars knocked Germany out, and as World War II knocked out Japan and Holland as imperialist powers. It apparently is the expectation of Khrushchev and his colleagues that Great Britain will resist the American success in former British markets and will take steps to undermine the United States, or will join Soviet Russia against the United States.

The error that Khrushchev makes is fundamental with Marxists. It would not occur to them that Great Britain and the United States could combine in industrial operations as they have been doing by the export of capital from the United States to Great Britain. The differences between the two countries have been as much over methods of achieving the same objectives as over markets.

From the standpoint of opposition to Soviet Russia, American support of anti-colonialism may have strengthened Russia and weakened Great Britain, but this is not yet a fact and it is even possible that from the long view, British industry will benefit by the relationship of nations within the Commonwealth. It is impossible to say at this point that anti-colonialism aimed at the nations of Western Europe only but not at the colonial expansion of Russia and China has not strengthened Russia's position throughout the world, but it is true that Great Britain has made an astonishing recovery after World War II with American assistance and that West Germany has made an astonishing, an unbelievable recovery. It is also true that Holland has stood the test of the loss of the Dutch East Indies (Indonesia).

An even more profound error is Khrushchev's assumption that Great Britain and the United States, in their search for markets, must destroy each other, when actually whenever Great Britain has been in trouble, the United States came to its defense. The Kaiser and Hitler made the same mistake that Khrushchev is making and it proved to be very costly to them. If anything, the United States would probably be stronger economically had it not entered these wars, but American public opinion supported Presidents Wilson and Roosevelt in standing by Great Britain.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
UNDESCENDED TESTES

A condition which sometimes causes too much worry to both parents and young boy is undescended testes, or male sex gland. There are two different types which should be distinguished at once. True cryptorchidism is the name given to the testes which never get beyond the abdominal cavity or which, even if felt, cannot be moved down into the scrotum or pouch which holds these glands and their accessories. There also is a high retracted testis and this finding should be regarded as completely normal in infants, young boys and, indeed, in some youngsters up to the age of puberty.

The testis and the cord are normal in these cases and the strong cremasteric muscle (muscle which can pull the testis up from the scrotum) can make the testis disappear completely from view. This reaction is particularly likely to occur when the child is frightened or made tense; it is commonly found during exposure to cold and when a physical examination is being made. When this occurs the physician can make it move down along the canal into the upper part of the scrotum, at which time it can be pulled well down into the scrotum. As the child becomes older, the cremasteric muscle becomes less active and the testis draws of its own accord into the scrotal sac where it permanently resides thereafter.

Drs. R. Gross and T. Jewett, Jr., Boston, state in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association, that out of a large number of babies and children who have been referred to them for this problem, they have found that a retracted testis (held high out of its proper place) is three or four times more common than a truly non-descended one. The former do not require treatment; most of the latter will need treatment at the proper age.

As we can understand, a testis that is riding in its proper place in the scrotum is much less likely to be injured than one which is up in the inguinal canal in the groin or resting against the pubic bone. In civilian life injuries of this kind are not uncommon; in military roles, airmen or paratroopers must wear parachute straps around the groins and during jumps from planes have great thrusts brought against inguinal structures and any testis contained therein.

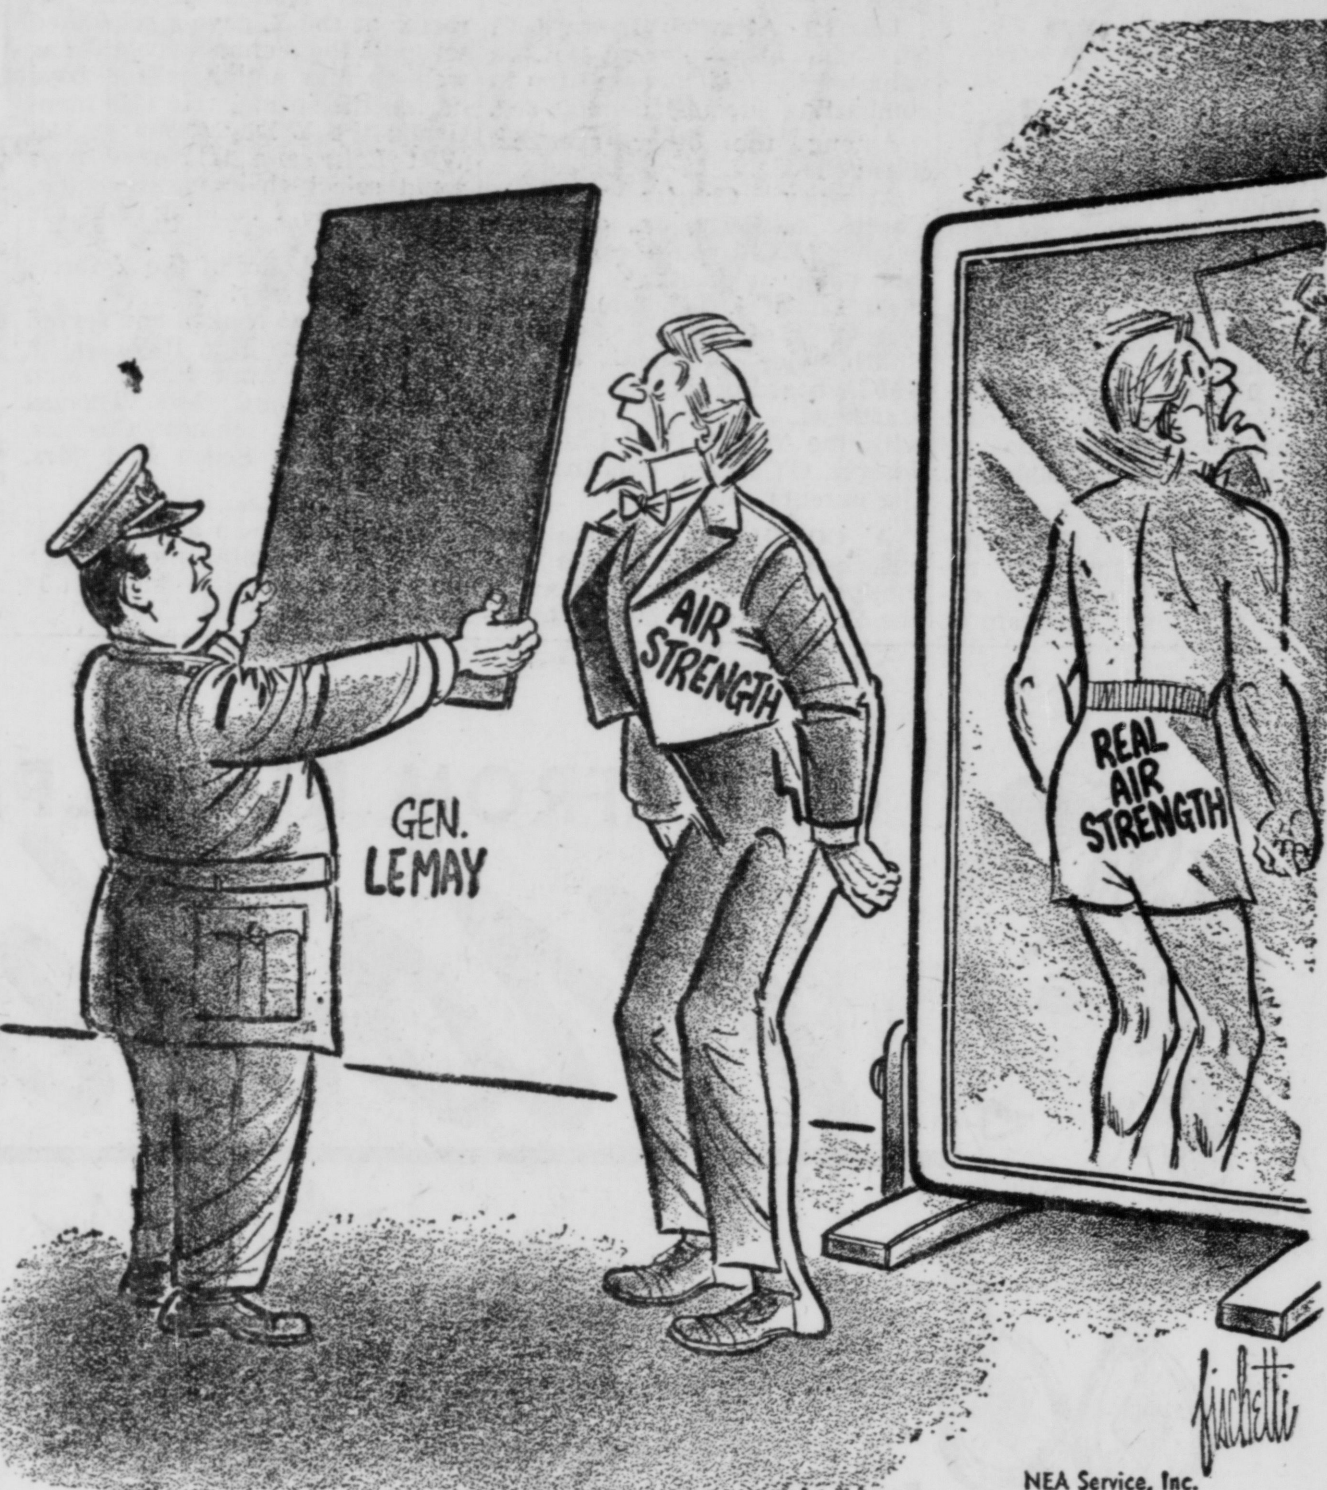

When is the best time to have the operation done for a true undescended testis? "While a troublesome accompanying inguinal hernia must require surgery for both the hernia and undescended testis in the early months or years of the patient's life, we have generally found from our cases that it is possible to defer surgery until the optimum time, which we believe lies somewhere between 9 and 11 years of age."

Change of Life in Men
It is not widely known that men also have a change of life called the "climacteric." ## Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington, (NEA)—The importance of ex-President Harry Truman in picking the next Democratic presidential candidate at the party's Chicago convention cannot be overemphasized.

So far, Truman has announced only that the race is still open and his mind is not made up on the best candidate.

Truman has been consulting frequently on political matters with half a dozen of his former administration leaders.

When two or more of these consultants get together privately to compare notes, they often find they can't agree on where Mr. Truman stands. This is an old Truman trick. He doesn't deceive people deliberately. He just lets people carry away their own ideas without disputing them until he knows just what he wants to do and is ready to do it.

All the stories that Truman is now sour on Adlai Stevenson and that Truman really prefers Gov. Averell Harriman are therefore to be taken with caution.

THERE WAS considerable advance speculation that in presenting the Four Freedoms Award to Governor Harriman in New York on May 9, Truman was endorsing the New Yorker. It was also rumored that Governor Harriman might announce his own candidacy at this big Waldorf dinner.

Both reports were mere gossip. The Four Freedoms Award was created as a memorial to Franklin D. Roosevelt. It has been presented to prominent Democrats four times out of six. But it would have been the height of bad taste to try to convert this affair into a political stunt.

May 10, 1936—Dr. William H. Connelly, who had been active for many years in the city's medical and civic life, died at his Franklin street home.

Mrs. Max Greenwald died at her home on Wurts street.

The Board of Supervisors was due to act on the 1936 county highway program.

Mrs. Frederick Howland Roosa died at her Fair street home.

May 10, 1946—No dimout order became effective here, after Truman is scheduled to sail for Europe May 11. He will be gone two months. It is perhaps the best time in the world for Democratic President - Maker Truman to be away.

When he gets back in mid-July, all the important primaries will be over. By that time it will be known whether Stevenson or Kefauver has won in Florida and California, or whether these two leaders have bumped each other off for good.

WITH the nominating convention only a month away, Truman will be in first-class position to announce whom he is for as he steps off the boat returning from Europe. But it is made clear he may not announce his choice before Chicago.

If Kefauver knocks off Stevenson in the primaries, there is little doubt that Truman will try to stop Kefauver. People who know say that you have to be born on a Missouri mule farm to understand all the words Truman uses about Kefauver.

If, on the other hand, Stevenson knocks off Kefauver in the primaries, Truman is expected to support the Illinois governor as he did in 1952.

Truman has high regard for Governor Harriman. But Harriman will be 65 on Nov. 15 against Eisenhower's 66 on Oct. 14. And Harriman is completely unacceptable to most southerners because of his liberal views on racial issues.

DELEGATES FROM northern, western and border states are expected to follow the Truman leadership at Chicago in event of a deadlock. Southern states will rally behind Speaker Sam Rayburn and Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senators Richard Russell of Georgia and Harry Byrd of Virginia.

This situation presents an opportunity for some fast trades.

Officer Walter Fitzgerald was elected president of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association.

Compromises involving Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Senator Johnson himself, or one of the young Democrat governors like Meyer of New Jersey, Leader of Pennsylvania or Clement of Tennessee might emerge.

In any such deals, the fine political handwork of Harry Truman will shape the result. Truman is said to believe that the Republicans can be beaten this year—even with Eisenhower. Truman is convinced that he could have beaten Eisenhower if he had chosen to run in 1952.

There are no rivers in Bermuda.

Texas supplies half of the U. S. natural gas.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

As a sandlot thinker and the recognized spokesman of the great American ignoramus, I submit for your consideration a few words from a publication called Books on Trial. The first of these excerpts is a well-deserved laudation of my pastorate and the second is an unwitting testimonial in defense of ignorance and stupidity. As a last preliminary may I state that my purpose in publishing this recognition of my eminence in my field is not to court your good opinion, than which I can imagine nothing of less consequence, but to demolish my enemies.

Books on Trial is a Catholic magazine.

In an essay in the issue for last December, entitled "A Mutual Admiration Society," Joseph Pegler, assistant managing editor of the Catholic Universe Bulletin, of Cleveland, said: "Why is Westbrook Pegler able to hold immense audiences for ideas with which most people probably do not agree? Because Pegler knows the people; he is one of the people; he works like a dog to write so entertainingly and challengingly that folks will want to read him. Pegler believes ferociously in what he thinks; he considers his ideas important; he has a burning desire to communicate them to as many people as possible."

By contrast, our intellectuals write as if they wanted to conceal their thoughts from everybody except a pet clique or coterie. Our intellectuals are not writing or painting or sculpting as if they loved people and wanted to serve the people. They are behaving as if the people were a not worth bothering about. It is almost a sin among intellectuals, it seems to me, to become popular as distinct from being praised and lionized."

Before proceeding to the other excerpt I submit that the reasons why "our intellectuals" write so badly is that they cannot write any better and take upon themselves the impossible task of justifying rot which deceives them.

Let us, when we come to this disarming problem, take no risk whatever until we have a real system of inspection and control. . . . Never trust a Russian Communist as far as you can kick him.

—Sir John Slessor, retired marshal of Britain's Royal Air Force.

Many Americans cannot understand other countries' resistance to the idea that what is good for America must be good for the rest of the world. We (Americans) are being forced overnight to grow up, and this is a painful process.

—Rev. Dr. George E. Drew, Lakewood (O.) Congregational Church.

I now refer back to Mr. Pegler's observation that "our intellectuals" write as if they wanted to conceal their thoughts and Shuster's own confession that the ignorance of the educated is less a problem than the education of the ignorant.

George's Withdrawal Called Big Loss to Administration

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 10 — For many weeks the idea of a withdrawal by Sen. George, D. Ga., from his prospective race for reelection has been quietly discussed here.

This correspondent learned about ten days ago from a prominent Georgia business man who happens to be a close friend of both Sen. George and former Gov. Herman Talmadge.

"We who are friends of both men," he said, "feel that it would be wiser for Sen. George to withdraw not only because the strain of the campaign would be great for a man of his advanced age but because we feel that a contest, should, if possible, be avoided."

WHEN ASKED at the time what the Senator's plans might be, the answer given was that these same friends hoped President Eisenhower would find an opportunity to use the Senator's services, since it would be an excellent way to emphasize bipartisan cooperation on foreign policy.

It is to be noted that, when news of the withdrawal of Sen. George became known today through a copyrighted article in "The Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle" and was later confirmed by the Senator himself in Washington, there was ready at once a letter from the President offering to the Georgian a post of great importance in international affairs.

There was nothing pre-arranged about it in the sense that this action was designed to influence the Senator's decision. Actually the Senator didn't make up his mind till a few days ago that he wouldn't make the race. Incidentally, the volunteer workers in his headquarters in Atlanta are reported by The United Press to have been caught flat-footed today by the developments in Washington and had already mailed out 30,000 pamphlets and 28,000 letters relating to his prospective campaign. So it was apparent they were not notified of Mr. George's decision till the last moment.

It is understood that the death of Sen. Barkley last week due in part to the strain of public speaking, had much to do with the final decision by Sen. George to avoid another campaign. The White House knew, of course, that he was considering the move and planned its action accordingly. For it was deemed an excellent opportunity to get the benefit of Sen. George's services and the accentuate the bi-partisan aspects of foreign policy. Apart from this, there is a strong bond of friendship between the President and Sen. George.

POLITICALLY, the action of Sen. George does not necessarily mean that Georgia will be without a conservative, full-fledged Democratic primary, which is equivalent to an election, will bring out opposition to former Gov. Talmadge, who has already announced his candidacy. It is believed that some of the anti-Talmadge groups have felt they would have a better chance against the former governor if they had a younger and more enthusiastic champion of their cause than Sen. George to represent them in the primary.

As for the situation in the Senate, the retirement of Sen. George is a distinct loss to the Eisenhower administration. Always objective and broad-gauged in his approach to foreign-policy questions, Mr. George played an influential part in shaping the Administration's course. When, however, he becomes an adviser and sits in the executive branch of the government, he will not have the same influence in the Senate as he has today.

BUT EVEN if the President should be re-elected and get a Republican majority in the Senate, he would need the help of a man like Senator George in dealing with the problems of both parties on Capitol Hill on matters of foreign policy. It would have been far better for the Eisenhower program in international affairs if Sen. George could have been re-elected and remained in the Senate. But, recognizing all the factors, the President's decision was a sound one. The situation several weeks ago stood ready to take advantage of the fact that Sen. George's services would be available to the Administration in a few months.

There is on every side admiration for Walter George as a statesman. At heart he has been a conservative. His chairmanship and the Senate Finance Committee helped to steer the nation through the shoals of New Dealism, though he incurred the political enmity of F. D. R. because of it. Occasionally Sen. George veered from conservatism in order to help his own party on domestic policies. On international questions, however, he never let partisanship warp his judgment—a rarity in public life nowadays. ## Girl Scout News

The regular monthly Board meeting of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts was held on Monday in the Methodist Church in Ellenville. The president, Mrs. Donovan Buehring, welcomed the large group present and introduced the new board members, and the guest from the National Field staff of Region Two, Miss Dolores Yorba, our new council advisor. Minutes of the March and April meetings were read by the new recording secretary, Miss Patricia Ham, followed by a financial report by William Costello.

Mrs. Ralph Spoor, Training Chairman, reported good turnouts at the various workshops held recently in Poughkeepsie. She announced special training for the Neighborhood Service Teams at Camp Macy July 2-13, and hoped there would be one representative from each area. There will also be volunteer trainers' courses held August 4-15 and August 20-31 at Camp Macy. One of this year's goals is stressing outdoor activities and the season opens with three workshops. The first, conducted by Mrs. Nellie DuBois, is basic outdoor training for leaders.

I now proceed to some expressions by a savant who is heavy with academic honors, Prof. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, N. Y. There is a capsule example, but a blockbuster, of his intellectual "integrity" in the fact that although he is a Catholic he is also a director of the Fund for the Republic, which subsidized Murrow's expensive video apology for Oppenheimer, and was a delegate to the conference of Unesco in Paris in 1946.

Professor Shuster's essay says first that the education of an ignorant has always been a problem little more serious than the ignorance of the educated. From that happy and, one hopes, original thrust, he proceeds at once to muddle words, fleeting phantoms of thought and allusions in a tumult which proves his own point at his own expense. And, after two short columns in which he blurs a disorderly rag-tag of historical characters to no purpose except the confusion of the reader and the vaunting of his memory for names, Professor Shuster writes:

"His (Walt Whitman's) America was both an individual's realization of 'self' through the attainment of awareness of all varieties of the national experience and a collectivity seeking new, untrammelled, glorious but fog-bound destinations."

I now refer back to Mr. Pegler's observation that "our intellectuals" write as if they wanted to conceal their thoughts and Shuster's own confession that the ignorance of the educated is less a problem than the education of the ignorant.

Missing Woman Is Found in Bellevue

New York, May 10 (AP)—Mrs. Catherine Nye of Syracuse, N. Y., held reunions yesterday in Bellevue Hospital with her husband and daughter.

Reported missing for 12 days and the object of a police search throughout the east, Mrs. Nye, 48, had walked into Bellevue April 28 and asked to be admitted. She said she was "mentally sick."

The tall, titian-haired woman gave her right name but declined to give her address or marital status, hospital officials said.

Mrs. Nye had come to New York by bus April 27 to attend her weekly class at the new school for social research, an adult educational center.

A chess expert, Mrs. Nye is a former president of the New York State Chess Assn.

On May 3 Mrs. Nye telephoned an old family friend, Leighton Fooks, a lawyer, and he paid her a visit at the hospital. Fooks assumed her family knew where she was. He was unaware until yesterday that she was being sought.

A Bellevue employee recognized Mrs. Nye from a newspaper picture and informed authorities.

Father and daughter arrived together and paid separate visits to Mrs. Nye in the ward. She remained in the hospital when they left.

Blind Coin Expert

High Point, N. C. (AP)—Blind since birth, Roby C. Leonard, 50, often amazes fellow members of a coin-collecting club. Leonard sees the coins with his fingers. He has no trouble detecting the tiny letters which show where some of the coins are minted, and that he sometimes notices defects in coins that other collectors overlook.

Judge Grants Delay In Giving Sentence

Postponement of sentence in the case of Geraldine Ray of Van Buren street, found guilty of failing to control her children, was again moved in County court Wednesday by her attorney Joseph A. Tinsley. He asked that Judge Bruhn postpone imposition of sentence until Friday at 1:30 p. m. in order that a physical and mental examination be given defendant.

County Judge Louis G. Bruhn granted the application and said that there had been an examination before the trial as to the mental stability of the defendant but he adjourned the matter until Friday as requested.

During the trial several witnesses testified, including the Rev. and Mrs. Howard W. Irvie, who told what they had observed. They were not complainants.

Construction ...

for the union's Local 11, replied when asked the reason for pickets at the building sites:

"The union expressed its appreciation to its sister unions for their cooperation, but pointed out that the dispute is with the Hot Shoppes and only secondarily with the Thruway."

He said picketing at the shops now open was preventing nearly all delivery of supplies.

The union attorney said he was sending a telegram to Gov. Averell Harriman and Thruway Chairman Bertram D. Tallamy protesting that Hot Shoppes is "importing southern anti-labor policies to our state."

There was no comment on this from Hot Shoppes management.

Luxemburg said he'll ask state officials to terminate the contract with Hot Shoppes for operation of thruway restaurants and give the concession to "a responsible New York employer."

In another development yesterday, the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board said the restaurant union has filed unfair labor practice charges against Hot Shoppes, charging the firm with barring organizers.

Godfrey P. Schmidt, counsel

Train Delays Due

New York, May 10 (AP)—Short delays in commuter and long-haul train schedules were in prospect today as a crew of 30 men worked to clear tons of dirt which cascaded down on the New York Central railroad's main line Hudson division tracks just north of Spuyten Duyvil station in the Bronx last night.

A spokesman for the railroad said delays of from three to seven minutes were expected for the 40 to 50 inbound commuter trains which use the tracks between 6 a. m. and 9 a. m.

for Hot Shoppes, earlier yesterday said he will file secondary boycott charges with the NLRB against the union local.

Schmidt said none of the 85 restaurant workers at the two operating places had left their jobs.

Actions Settled In Court Cases

An action brought by Marie Drago and another against Salvatore Bartona in Supreme Court has been settled. Plaintiff sued to recover for personal injuries which were allegedly suffered when she fell at her Marlborough apartment when she went to a well on the premises for water. The water system was under repair in the house and she allegedly was going to a well on the premises of defendant when she met with the accident. Roy L. Featherstone appeared for plaintiff and Montgomery, Effron and Goldberg for defendant.

SETTLEMENT was also announced in a negligence action brought by Doris Marcella Raycraft against John P. Vicenti. Plaintiff claimed injuries when she jumped or fell from the defendant's car. Rusk and Rusk for plaintiff and Cook and Cook for defendant.

Trial was begun in an action for negligence brought by Warren Yerdon and another, growing out of an accident in Ellenville in February 1955. Philip Korn with N. Le Van Haver appear for plaintiff and McCabe and McCabe with Robert Ortale of counsel appear for defendant.

Chances Bright

some of the $312,784,000 chopped by the committee from President Eisenhower's requests should be restored.

But Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) floor manager of the bill, told newsmen he didn't believe the House would make any major alterations.

Mahon jolted his colleagues by his opening remark that the United States and Russia have "just about" reached the point where each has "the full capability to destroy the other."

The opposing world powers, he said, are on the threshold of "atomic plenty" and are moving toward a position of "mutual deterrence."

It soon may be, he said, that both sides will realize that there can be no winner in war and "the argument as to which side is the stronger will be somewhat pointless."

But until then, he cautioned, the only answer to the present day situation appears to be to provide more and more money.

Bomb Test Postponed

USS Mt. McKinley, off Bikini, Friday, May 11 (AP)—An off-and-on H-bomb test scheduled for dawn today was postponed again 8 1/2 hours before blast time. The command ship Estes said "it now appears that Sunday (Saturday, U. S. time) will be the earliest possible date on which conditions might be favorable." The Estes said wind patterns had shifted so that the Marshall Islands might have been endangered by a blast today. The explosion had been set for 5:51 a. m.—12:51 p. m. Thursday, Eastern Standard Time. Adverse weather had caused three previous postponements from the original date of Monday, U. S. time.

would suffer because of its young people being inadequately prepared for citizenship.

According to the committee's report, most of the high school departments are operating under extremely adverse conditions. Physical education instruction is offered about one-sixth of the time prescribed by the State Education Department because only one room is available for boys' physical education, girls' physical education, and auditorium purposes.

Art instruction is being given in a garage which is too small, not properly heated, with insufficient storage space. Industrial arts instruction is being given in a small frame building which is not only subject to fire hazard but also lacks space for machinery, tools, and supplies. The homemaking instruction is being given in a house rented by the school district. This house, not built for home economics purposes, is not conducive to proper training in methods of improving home life. Instrumental music instruction is being given in a basement room below ground level where the space is inadequate and the dampness is very damaging to the instruments, the report said.

All parents may not be aware of the grossly inadequate lunch room facilities. Students must eat in dungeon-like rooms with no windows and with improper seating facilities. The drab appearance of the surroundings lessens the enjoyment of meals, the committee reported.

Health facilities are limited. One room serves for a waiting room, examination room, and sick bay. Only one cot is available which means that only one seriously ill student can be accommodated. This health office is located in a drafty and damp basement, the report said. The dental hygienist will have no office available but will have to use a storage room in the Seamon building where students' lockers are located.

Parents should realize that the use of the fourth floor of the Main street building for classrooms, science rooms and library creates a serious fire hazard. The rooms are poorly lighted and are crammed to capacity. For example, the physics room is about one third the proper size, the committee report concluded.

Critical Period

not need less. The Soviet ground forces opposite us are as large as they ever have been. The Soviets know nothing about land armies being outmoded.

"WHAT WE ARE doing is holding the ground lightly and supplementing that with tactical atomic weapons. Our strategy is based on the use of atomic weapons to deter an act of aggression."

"Tactical atomic weapons definitely would be used to repel an act of aggression. Those weapons would be delivered by air power, guided missiles, rockets and artillery."

Gruenther declined to say whether his forces are now equipped with atomic weapons, explaining that such information would be of value to the Soviets.

Approval Is Asked For Harbor Spending

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Approval of a budget request of a half million dollars for Oswego (N.Y.) harbor was asked yesterday by the executive director of the Oswego Port Authority.

Arthur C. Mengel appeared before Senate Public Works Appropriation subcommittee and said the money would be used to construct a detached breakwall and to remove rock shoals at the entrance to the harbor on Lake Ontario.

E. D. Westerman, representing the New York Department of Commerce, also spoke in support of the appropriation.

Water-borne commerce of the port has climbed from 393,000 tons in 1928 to 3,310,000 tons in 1954, Mengel said. Tentative tonnage figures for 1955 indicate a million tons of additional shipping over 1954, he added.

Will Go to Court Over Milk Order

Syracuse, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A city official said he would take court action today to defeat a proposed milk marketing order for the Syracuse area.

Corporation Counsel George T. Driscoll said last night he would proceed with a Supreme Court action designed to stay a vote by producers on the order next Tuesday.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED—Services marking the 150th anniversary of the Woodstock Lutheran Church were held Sunday. (Freeman photo)

Service Is Held Celebrating 150th Anniversary Date

Woodstock, May 9—A large congregation attended the 150th Anniversary services of the Lutheran Church Sunday, May 6. Dr. Paul C. White of New York city, a representative of The Synod of New York and New England, and secretary for Religious Education of Synod, was the speaker. He emphasized the building of the church and the fact that the church would never be destroyed. He based his message on the words of the people in response of the challenge of Nehemiah "Let us rise up and build."

Three challenging thoughts were given by the speaker that a builder should have in mind. A builder should dream; a builder should work and a builder should love. He mentioned the dreams that the founders of the church must have had, and of how they worked in those days. Dr. White said that those same dreams and that same work is needed today, and it all should be done in love, the love of God, and love for each other according to the Bible pattern. In the afternoon, the pastor, the Rev. Olney E. Cook, mentioned the gifts and memorials and spoke of the fine spirit of giving. A brief message was given by the Rev. Carl Yettr, a former pastor, who spoke of beginnings connecting them with the beginning and growth of the Lutheran Church in Woodstock.

GREETINGS were brought by the local pastors, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd of the Dutch Reformed Church and the Rev. Garnett Wilder of the Methodist Church. Greetings were also read by the pastor from former members, and friends of the church. The Rev. Walter Frederick, a former pastor, who preached the sermon Sunday morning, April 29, as a part of the anniversary program, was present and had a part in both services. The Shultis Quartet sang two numbers. They sang from the old hymnal familiar numbers which they sang some years ago when the family was living in Woodstock.

Mother's Day in the Lutheran Church will be observed Sunday morning, May 13, with a special program. The pastor, the Rev. Olney E. Cook, will speak on a "Bouquet of Flowers" emphasizing the qualities in a mother's life that should be an inspiration to her family. The choir will sing "You Planted a Flower" by Lorenz. There will also be other musical selections.

Des Moines, Iowa (AP)—Philip E. Martin, Des Moines, suddenly discovered he was 12 years older than he thought he was. Martin believed he was 57 years old—until he received a letter from his sister who informed him he was two years older than she. Her age, she said, was well past 65. Martin investigated and learned his sister was right. He was 69 instead of 57.

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The only problem in today's hand is how to handle the trumps. The situation is rather common and will repay careful study.

If you make the "normal" play of taking the ace of spades and then finessing the jack, you'll lose two trump tricks. That will be the end of you, since you must also lose two diamonds.

How should you protect yourself against Q-10-x-x in either the East or the West hand?

There is a standard safety play for this situation. Take the first trump trick with the king. Next lead a low trump towards the A-9.

If West plays the ten or queen you can go up with dummy's ace and return the nine. You have no further problems.

If West plays a small trump at the second trick, your correct play is to finesse dummy's nine! You won't mind losing that trick, because that means the trumps break 3-2, and dummy's ace will clear up the trump suit on the next round. And, of course, you don't mind a bit if dummy's nine wins the trick—since only this safety finesse protected you from the loss of two trump tricks.

How does all this help you if there are four trumps in the East hand? When that is the case, West will be unable to play a trump on the second round. If you are awake, you'll notice West's discard and you'll play the ace of spades from the dummy. Now you can lead the nine toward your hand, and East can get only the queen of trumps.

New York, May 10 (P)—Aleksander K. Guryanov, one of the two Russian diplomats expelled from this country, says he is "very glad" to be returning to his homeland.

Guryanov, 36, Soviet attaché to the United Nations, and Nicholas F. Turkin, former third secretary of the Russian UN delegation, were ordered to leave the U. S. for their part in helping five Soviet seamen to go back to the USSR.

Local Hospitals Are Accredited

Hospital Accreditation
In discussing hospitals with Sister Berenice, administrator of Benedictine Hospital during hospital week, Sister Berenice said that every community is interested in its hospitals and the quality of care they offer. People want to know how well their hospital measures up to standards. What are these standards? Who establishes them? Who checks that standards are maintained?

All this is done by an organization known as the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. It surveys hospitals in the United States and Canada to see they are properly administered and if a sufficiently high grade of clinical medicine is practiced in them.

The primary responsibility of a hospital is to provide good medical and nursing care. One simple way exists for knowing whether the service it offers is adequate. If it is approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, a hospital has voluntarily submitted to a survey of its facilities and an appraisal of the quality of care it offers.

The program of accreditation was begun by the American College of Surgeons. It was transferred by the ACS in 1952 to the newly formed Joint Commission, members of which are the American College of Physicians, American College of Surgeons, American Hospital Association, American Medical Association, and the Canadian Medical Association.

This means that when you enter Benedictine or Kingston Hospitals, which are accredited, you are assured of modern, up-to-date care. Our hospitals are two of about 3,500 institutions which have passed the requirements necessary for accreditation.

Here is what the commission tries to assure you, if you are a patient in an accredited hospital: The building is clean and properly maintained. Every precaution has been taken against fire hazards. There are adequate diagnostic facilities, well supervised, including a clinical laboratory and an X-ray department.

The medical staff is organized to ensure that the professional work is constantly reviewed. If you have previously been a patient here, your medical records are complete and are available to your physician. And they must be kept up to date.

If you are to undergo surgery, you will receive excellent care before, during and after the operation. Fire and explosion hazards have been eliminated in Eleven years ago, a doctor said she would be blind in a few years, but Mrs. Sandoval still has sight in her right eye. She's being fitted for glasses so she can continue seeing the things she likes best—her flower garden, and boxing, wrestling and cowboy movies on TV. She has outlived two of her nine children.

A competent person administers your anesthetic. After the operation tissue removed in surgery is sent to the pathologist for examination, and your surgeon's diagnosis is confirmed.

This, in brief, is what accreditation means to you. There are many other standards met by institutions like Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals, which are approved by the Joint Commission. They add up to a guarantee that your hospital is constantly on guard for your health. The public is invited to visit Benedictine Hospital any afternoon or evening during Hospital Week.

Church Officers Are Honored as Long Terms End

The Consistory of the Fair Street Reformed Church honored those who have served on Consistory for the past three years Friday night at Williams Lake Hotel and Frederick Hoffman, who has served for the past nine years as clerk of consistory.

Frederick Hoffman was honored as retiring clerk after nine years service in that capacity. He was presented with a gift of appreciation and a certificate calling attention to his service as clerk.

The retiring members will be replaced by Elders William E. Rylance and Stanley Hankinson, and Deacons Donald G. Cooper, Dayton W. Garlick, and Howard I. Spaulding.

She Opposes Funds, Name of Site Left Out

Washington, May 10 (AP)—A bill to deny federal funds for the controversial flood control dam proposed for Davenport Center, N. Y., has been introduced by Rep. St. George (R-N.Y.).

Mrs. St. George said yesterday she introduced her bill because the law authorizing construction of seven dams to control floods in the upper Susquehanna river basin does not specifically mention Davenport Center as a site.

"At no place in the law (passed by Congress in 1932) authorizing construction of the seven dams," she said, "is the name Davenport Center mentioned. Neither, for that matter, is there mention of Charlotte creek."

The dam would impound waters of the creek, a tributary of the Susquehanna. The impounding would inundate farm lands which Mrs. St. George contends "are too valuable for such a purpose."

That, she says, is the principal reason for her opposition to construction of the Davenport Center dam.

Prio in Florida, Thrown Out of Cuba

Miami, Fla., May 10 (AP)—Carlos Prio Socarras, stormy former president of Cuba, was back here in his old exile city today after being thrown out of the country, he said, by the Cuban National Police.

U. S. Immigration authorities, who say Prio has once violated the Neutrality Act, were somewhat at a loss whether to let him stay in this country and will probably set the matter down for a hearing.

Prio, meanwhile, was surrounded by many followers who remained here when he ended an exile of nearly four years and returned to Cuba last August. He was deposed by Fulgencio Batista, who is still the president in a bloodless coup in 1952.

The former president was accompanied here by an aide, Col. Rafael Izquierdo.

The two men were indicted at New York in 1953 on a charge of violating the Neutrality Act in connection with alleged purchase of arms. Prio pleaded no contest and paid a fine. Izquierdo, who had gone to Mexico, could not re-enter the country and did not plead.

President Has Bill

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower has before him a bill giving the consent of Congress to construction of a bridge across the St. Lawrence river at or near Ogdensburg, N. Y. The bill was passed by the Senate yesterday. Introduced by Rep. Kilburn (R-N.Y.), the measure provides that actual construction of the bridge must commence within four years and be completed within six years.

Accord Has New Chamber Group

The growing need for improvement and advancement brought into being the Accord Area Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Accord Firehouse when 34 persons present made spontaneous pledges for membership.

Action followed the reading of specimen of by-laws by Henry Salfi, temporary chairman, submitted by the organization committee. The by-laws were passed after a few minor changes and the group elected a nine-man board of directors including Henry Salfi, Howard C. Anderson and John Schoonmaker, Sr., for three years; Clifford Schoonmaker, Charles Freedman and David Lang, two years; Hyman

Bank, John Scribano and Milton Layne, one year.

ELECTED AS officers by the directors were: David Lang, president; Henry Salfi, vice president; Frances Weissman, secretary and Clyde Gazlay, treasurer.

The group also voted to join the National Chamber of Commerce to help with the promotional program.

Many present expressed the desire of others not in attendance who had been unable to be present but wanted to go along and help with this major project. A motion was then passed to accept charter members until the next regular meeting of the Accord Area Chamber of Commerce Monday, May 21 at the firehouse at 8:30 p. m. Applications for membership may be sent to Henry Salfi, Frances Weissman or Clyde Gazlay.

Scouts, Square Club
Plan Joint Meeting

Woodstock, May 10 — A joint meeting of the Woodstock Cub Scouts and the Woodstock Square Club will be held at the Andy Lee Recreation Field Wednesday, May 16 at 6:45 p. m.

The Woodstock Cub Scouts were the first pack to be organized in the Rip Van Winkle Council and are this year celebrating their eighth birthday. They have asked the Square Club, who have been their sponsors for seven years, to join in this celebration.

A colorful program of Cub ceremonies around camp fires and a presentation of the Pack's charter has been planned by Cub Master John J. Bennett and Cub Chairman of the Square Club, Robert Gordon.

After the ceremonies, the Square Club is putting on a weenie roast for all Cubs, their parents and members of the Square Club. In the event of rain the celebration will be held at the Woodstock School.

Garden Club Hears
Member Reports

Woodstock, May 10 — The Woodstock Garden Club held its second meeting of the season Thursday afternoon in the basement of the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church. In keeping with the spirit of things, colorful spring flower arrangements adorned the club room. Members turned out in large numbers for the meeting, presided over by Miss Florence Hubbard, president. Mrs. Edward Marquardt, club secretary, submitted a complete report. Mrs. Frederick Platt, treasurer, who has returned from Florida, read an informative report.

At the opening of the meeting club business and various subjects were discussed. Members voted favorably to resume the circulating library of books pertaining to gardens, flowers, shrubs, etc., as of last season. Mrs. Henry Schwab was reelected to act as librarian in charge.

The balance of the afternoon proved constructive as well as entertaining. Mrs. Frederick Platt spoke on "What I Saw at the Flower Show in Florida." Miss Therese Kessel gave a detailed and helpful talk on her specialty, "the culture and growing of sweet peas and garden peas." Mrs. William Miller read "All about rock gardens for the small home." Mrs. Henry Winzenried spoke on "the growing of house plants successfully." The afternoon concluded with a brief talk by Rodney Lethbridge, bird enthusiast, on bird life, their habits, characteristics and appearance. As Mr. Lethbridge spoke he illustrated various bird songs or calls on records.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the

Scouts Meet Monday

Two of the Foster brothers, who are Explorer Scouts, gave a demonstration on packing camping equipment for carrying on a pack board. On Sunday, at 1 p. m. on the village green, the scouts will meet to take a hike and cook their own suppers, weather permitting.

Rotary Club Hears
Conservation 'Talk'

Woodstock, May 10 — Al Hall, a representative of the New York State Department of Conservation, Division of Game Management, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Woodstock Rotary Club at Deane's Monday night.

Mr. Hall spoke at great length of the deer herds in the southern zone of New York state. He presented many interesting facts in connection with the game management and research being done by the Conservation Department. The speaker called attention to the fact that many counties in the southern zone are interested in having an "antlerless" season. However, several counties adjoining Ulster are a little reluctant to having an antlerless season inasmuch as the hunting pressure in any one county will be too great.

The Conservation Department's experience in antlerless season for antlerless season brought many disgruntled complaints from residents of that area, due to the heavy hunting pressure. Mr. Hall's contention is that if four or five counties in this area would cooperate in having a doe season, the hunting pressure would be distributed over a larger area.

Mr. Hall called attention to the need of an antlerless season since many hundreds of deer have been found starved due to lack of browsing areas. The herd is increasing in such proportion that the deer are crowding into these small areas with the result that many are starving to death. To date, nearly 50 carcasses have been found in Ulster county alone. A decision will be made this week at the meeting of the Ulster County Sportsmen's Federation as to whether or not Ulster county will have an antlerless season.

On Rheumatic Fever

Woodstock, May 10 — A film concerning rheumatic fever in children was shown at the monthly meeting Thursday of the Woodstock Parent Teacher Association. Dr. Irving Josephson spoke on the possible establishment of a mental health program for this area.

The scheduled speaker, Dr. Elbert MacFadden of Kingston was unable to attend at the last moment and Dr. Josephson kindly consented to take his place.

Dr. Josephson's talk followed the showing of the film, "The Valiant Heart," which pictured the case history of a boy who had contracted rheumatic fever. According to Dr. Josephson, rheumatic fever is primarily in areas that are cool and damp, the germ being present in a streptococcus infection. Not all strep infections carry rheumatic fever, but the average runs three to a hundred.

Penicillin is the greatest weapon against rheumatic fever when administered during the first signs of a strep throat infection.

In order to safeguard children, the physician said, penicillin should be given immediately at the first signs of a strep throat infection. This infection differs from others of the throat by its characteristic pain when swallowing. A parent may also note a small lump under the back part of either jaw bone which is painful when pressed.

Dr. Josephson also expressed his interest in establishing a mental health program and stated that the cost of a mental health team would be $35,000 a year, while the expense of handling two delinquents would cost the state almost six times that in one year. It must be remembered that the state finances 50 per cent of the mental health board. Those in favor of such a group should contact their town supervisor.

A question and answer period followed Dr. Josephson's enlightening talk and refreshments were served.

More Coverage Asked
Of Hospital Plans

New York, May 10 (AP)—The House of Delegates of the Medical Society of the State of New York, recommends that Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans be extended to cover diagnostic care and consultation fees in or out of a hospital.

The House of Delegates, governing body of the society, also urges that county medical societies approve a $6,000 annual income ceiling under which Blue Shield plans would provide almost complete payment of medical expenses for enrolled subscribers.

The recommendations were made yesterday at the society's 150th annual meeting, which continues today.

The Blue Shield plans have an income maximum set for subscribers, ranging from $4,000 to $6,000, providing almost complete medical payments for those earning less than the maximum.

Coach House Presents 'Love Me Long' for Last Play of Season

Kingston's community theatre group, Coach House Players, is winding up its sixth season with the presentation of Doris Frankel's sparkling comedy "Love Me Long" at the George Washington School Auditorium, May 16 and 17 at 8:30 p. m. Houston Richards is directing this bright laugh hit which tells of the struggle of two couples trying to establish their homes. Merry complications set in as they battle for possession of the apartment where the spirited actress, played by Eve Wulff, and suave sophisticate, played by Stanley London lived when married to each other. Their naive victims in the conflict are Joan Hansen and John Glennon who portray their new down to earth partners.

Richard Becker will be seen as the landlord caught up in the whirlwind of confusion over the apartment lease and too many tenants. Also comically involved are the interior decorators, Kay Levy and Mary Donnelly, moving man played by Ed Finn, bewildered maid played by Elaine Funk and phone man, Don Gregory. Roy Wulff will be seen as the justifiably perturbed father of the younger girl who misunderstands the complex situation completely. In the end, the young couple make a decision both amusing and surprising to settle the score.

The Players have selected May 23 as the date for their fashion show at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church. Announcement of models and participating shops will be made shortly. Both the play and fashion show are produced for the benefit of the scholarship fund.

On May 26 the IBM Footlights of Poughkeepsie will be hosts to the regional conference where the Coach House Players will present the one-act play "The Happy Journey." A New York theatre bus trip is scheduled on this same date and tickets for many favorite shows have been secured. The special annual meeting and election of officers for next season is set for Monday, May 28 at the Coach House.

Rosemary V. Terpening Becomes Bride Of Officer Joseph G. Keller on May 5

At a double ring ceremony, following a Nuptial Mass in St. Mary's Church, Saturday, May 5, Miss Rosemary Virginia Terpening of this city became the bride of Joseph Gerald Keller, a patrolman of the Kingston Police Department.

The Rev. Francis X. Toner was celebrant of the Mass at 10:30 a. m., and officiated at the wedding rites. Many relatives and friends of the couple were in attendance.

Miss Barbara Bruck, the soloist, sang "Ave Maria," "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy," and "Mother at Your Feet We're Kneeling."

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Keller Sr., 18 Hanratty street.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Terpening of 219 East Chester street, was given in marriage by her father.

Her gown was of hand-clipped French lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The bouffant skirt en train featured painted cascades of lace at the front and back. She wore a scalloped crown of matching lace to which was attached her French illusion fingertip veil.

Miss Mary Keller, sister of the bridegroom was maid of honor. Her gown was of lilac nylon chiffon, styled with a shirred and molded long torso, sweetheart neckline and tiny sleeves. The flowing skirt was waltz length and she wore a matching pillbox-type headpiece trimmed with sweetheart rosebuds and a tiny veil.

The bridesmaids, dressed the same as the maid of honor, were Mrs. Richard Keller of Cottage Row, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Lucille Corrado, 64 Stephan street, a friend of the couple.

Robert Terpening, 219 East Chester street, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Keller.

Queen, Opens New York State Travel Exhibit
Ann Vass, Hudson Valley Apple Blossom

MISS ANN VASS

New York city—Blonde Miss Ann Vass, Hudson Valley Apple Blossom Queen and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Vass, 142-21 60th avenue, Flushing, L. I., officially opened the New York State "Vacationlands" travel exhibit at the Chrysler International Automobile Salon, 42nd street and Lexington avenue, yesterday.

Miss Vass, a senior majoring in elementary education at the State Teachers College, New Paltz, in the heart of the apple country, was selected to invite New Yorkers and others to see the southern Ulster and Dutchess county orchards when they are in full bloom in mid-May. The "Vacationlands" show will distribute free maps of a one-day tour from New York city that will cover some of the heaviest concentration of blossoms. Signs are being erected along the suggested route near New Paltz and Poughkeepsie so that visitors may travel the best routes to see the blossoms.

Last year, at the first "Vacationlands" show at the Chrysler Salon, over 20,000 visitors were given maps, pamphlets, folders and helpful advice on the attractions of New York State.

Chrysler Corporation which is co-sponsor of the show, will feature 20 Plymouths, Dodges, DeSotos and Chryslers as part of a Spring auto show. In addition a display of Flight Sweep dresses created by Kasper will be shown. The design of the dresses was inspired by the Flight Sweep styling of Chrysler Corporation cars. The show will continue for three weeks and is open free to visitors from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily except Saturdays and Sundays.

Party for Toddlers Is No Chore for Modern Moms

EATING PARTIES go over big with children, yet teach them manners and how to get along harmoniously together.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Right now we have more toddlers than ever before. That's because of two successive record-breaking birth years (1954, 4,076,000—1955, 4,091,000).

We are honoring our children this month with Child Health Day, National Baby Week and general emphasis on child health and welfare.

Incidentally, girl babies born now in the United States will have a longer average life than boys. In 1953, girls could look forward to 72.1 years; boys 66.1. In 1900, baby girls could expect only 48.3 years and boys 46.3 years. This longer life span is credited to tremendous strides in medicine and public health and naturally to increased knowledge of good nutrition.

As to toddlers, they are so-called little folks. They like to do things with somebody. Breathes there a Mother who hasn't heard, "Please, may I have a party?"

Simple table manners can be practiced at a tea party, if adult supervision is tactful. The little hostess learns to serve her guest, offers food to her doll, gradually manages to spoon her own food without sloshing or shoveling. As for food, serve milk or cocoa, wafers, and colorful junior fruits molded in gelatin or as a topping for molded gelatin.

Fruit Dessert Fluff (Serves 3)

Combine 1 cup (two 4 1/2-ounce containers) junior fruit dessert with 2 tablespoons sugar, few drops almond extract and 1/2 cup finely crushed vanilla wafers or fineback crumbs. Whip 2 egg whites until stiff, not dry. Fold into fruit mixture, spoon into serving glasses.

Variation: Adult Dessert: Whip 1/3 cup heavy cream or chilled evaporated milk and substitute for egg whites. Make this dessert with other ready-to-use junior fruits, such as apricot-applesauce.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Creamed tuna and olives on toast squares, fluffy rice, buttered green beans, crisp rolls, lettuce and tomato salad, fruit dessert fluff, coffee, tea or milk.

Questions -- Answers

A—Nisei are born in the United States and reared here, while Kibei-Nisei means they were born in the United States but have spent much time in Japan.

Q—Which president appointed our first ambassador?

A—Grover Cleveland, who appointed Thomas Francis Bayard the first U. S. ambassador to Great Britain.

Blowing Soil

Anadarko, Okla. (AP) — Neil Dikeman is going to be a little more careful from now on when he helps his wife in the yard. He picked up a chunk of sod and began shaking it into a hard-blowing wind. Then he looked around — and standing windward was Mrs. Dikeman whose cold cream-covered face was plastered with dirt.

Consolidation Is Topic for Panel Talks on Monday

A panel discussion on consolidation of rural schools will be held Monday, May 14, in Kingston High School Library under the sponsorship of the P-TA Council.

Views on the subject will be given by local educators and representatives of the P-TA.

The panel will include: Clarence Johnson, district supervisor of the Second Supervisory District, who will speak on the issue of consolidation and finance from a supervisors point of view; Edward Dingelday, president of the Town of Ulster No. 8 Board of Education, who will express the views of a board of education official; Benson Krom, local realtor who is now a member of the P-TA.

Smell How Fresh

Taste How Sweet!

Mrs. Filbert's has a flavor secret! Milder, sweeter—naturally! It takes a woman to zip her margarine onto your table so fast it tastes fresher than even most expensive spreads! That's Mrs. Filbert's flavor secret. More vitamins, too, than the expensive spread. Spread Mrs. Filbert's fresh flavor tonight! Delicious!

Only a woman could make it taste so good!

McNaughton, director of education program at IBM, and chairman of the steering committee of the high school P-TA.

A report by the by-laws committee also is expected to be made at Monday's meeting. Gerald Shampo, vice-president of the P-TA Council, will give the report. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Helen Gilkey, president; Vincent Fretsch, council representative of MJM and Charles Rinschler, president of the School No. 6 P-TA.

Ives May Resume Senate Work Monday

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), released from George Washington Hospital yesterday, is expected to resume his duties in the Senate Monday.

Ives entered the hospital Saturday for observation following a recent abdominal operation in Norwich, N. Y. An attack of pneumonia came after his operation.

Ives' office said yesterday the senator was feeling fine and had returned to his Washington residence.

Ives' expected return to the Senate on Monday means, probably, that at that time or shortly thereafter, the Senate will begin debate on legislation to permit New York state to build new power plants at Niagara Falls.

Jury Drops Charges

New York, May 10 (AP)—A Brooklyn grand jury has dropped charges against a 34-year-old Manhattan High School teacher who eloped to Elton, Md., last January with a 17-year-old girl who formerly was his student. The grand jury voted yesterday not to indict George Wald after hearing him, his bride and his father-in-law. Originally, Morris Silverman of Brooklyn, father of 17-year-old Sydney, the bride, had lodged rape and abduction charges against Wald on the basis of her age and lack of parental consent. The father later agreed to drop the charges on the couple's promise to stay apart until Sydney reaches 18 next Aug. 25.

Ossining Man Killed

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 10 (AP)—A man identified as James J. Hardiman, 66, of Ossining, N. Y., was struck by an automobile and killed in an apparent case of hit-and-run here Tuesday night. Patrolman Howard Long said that Hardiman was dead on arrival at a hospital after he was hit on U. S. 60 about 8:40 p. m. EST between the main and service entrances to the plush Greenbrier Hotel. No arrests were made in the mishap. Long said both White Sulphur Springs and state police were investigating.

His Bail $35,000

Several ladies from here spent Saturday in New York city.

Myron Anderson is enjoying a two weeks vacation from his position at Maybrook railroad yards.

Mrs. St. Dykter, who spent the winter in New York, has arrived at their home in this place for the summer.

Mrs. Clara Butler of New York is spending a few days at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Food shoppers will find good buys this week in veal, ham, pork and poultry. Beef prices, however, are heading higher.

Supermarket chains have added two to four cents a pound to their posted prices for beef sirloin. In some cities, prices of beef rib roast are up as much as six cents a pound.

LAMB PRICES are on the upgrade, too, with gains as high as 10 cents a pound reported over last week's levels.

Cheeriest news for the bargain-conscious housewife is in the poultry department, where chickens for frying and broiling offer outstanding buys this week. Prices are down as much as four cents a pound in several major cities and the outlook is for even better bargains in the weeks to come. Turkey also figures prominently among "specials" offered by major food chains this weekend.

Behind the downward price trend is record consumption. In the first three months of 1956, Americans devoured 825 million pounds of chicken and turkey meat. That's an increase of 18 per cent over the first quarter of last year.

HIGH CONSUMPTION has spurred a record level of production, which has helped keep poultry prices down. On big eastern poultry farms, broilers today bring about 21 cents a pound. That compares with a 1955 high of 34 cents a pound, and with 24 cents a pound a year ago.

Meanwhile wholesale prices of beef continued to move higher, indicating further increases at the retail level soon. Prices are still substantially lower than they were a year ago, but poultry definitely holds a competitive edge. There are some analysts who predict that poultry consumption—due for an 8 per cent rise in this year—may outstrip beef and pork.

Produce counters offer a somewhat poorer selection than is usual for this time of year. A contra-seasonal cold spell has retarded crops in wide areas of the country.

BEST BUYS among vegetables include cabbage, spinach, white and sweet potatoes, carrots, pascal celery and peppers. Radishes and asparagus, which should be plentiful in the northern tier of states right now, are somewhat on the high side, as are peas and beans. Texas onions are reasonably plentiful and moderately priced.

Oranges have gone up a little since last week but still constitute one of the best buys in fresh fruits. Honeydew melons (grown in Mexico) are moderately priced this week, and a few Texas melons have arrived in northern markets. Prices should be lower soon when honeydews from Texas and California begin to reach major markets in heavy volume.

Strawberries from California, Louisiana and the Carolinas are plentiful and moderately priced. There are wide variations, however, in quality, color, condition and size.

A sneak thief stole a trombone from a classroom in an Ohio school. And then he blew!

Life is full of stumbling blocks and the best thing to do is play with them—not stumbling over them.

Who can remember when a man proposed to a girl on his knees—when she wasn't even sitting there?

Why We Say--

HIGH SEAS

When we refer to the "high seas" we mean all seas which are not the property of a particular country (beyond the three-mile limit). The word "high" here is in its older meaning of "public" as it is also used in highways, which are really "public" ways.

OFFICE CAT

Tommy, a bright youngster, was told by his mother that she would give him 10 cents for every dozen pins he rescued from the floor, thus preventing her one-year-old baby, who was just beginning to crawl, from finding them.

Neighbor—What will you do with the money when you earn it, Tommy?

Tommy—With the first 10 cents I'll buy a paper of pins and scatter them all over the house!

Sign on a laundromat: "Let us help you lead a clean life."

During the world war some of our Negro soldiers were billeted with the English, and they taught the English boys poker. One Englishman picked up his hand and said:

Englishman—I don't know your poker game, but I'll wager a pound.

The colored man looked at his hand and found he had four aces, and he said:

Colored Man—I don't know much about your money, but I'll see your pound, and raise you a ten!

A number of Legionnaires were seated around a table in a crowded restaurant when a much hurried waitress spilt a bowl of hot soup all over a chaplain. The good man spluttered, tried to control his anger, and finally sounded off with:

Chaplain—Come, come! One of you sinful comrades say something appropriate.

Hospital Education

Denver (AP)—For 28 years Isadore Berman has kept a pledge to himself not to become dulled by long hospitalization. At 63, Berman is still a patient at the American Medical Center which he entered when he was 35. He is still under care for tuberculosis. As a librarian at the hospital since his admission, Berman not only has kept track of 17,000 volumes but has learned to play the piano and violin, taught himself to read Spanish, Greek and Italian, among other things. "These modern books are frankly too spicy and sexy for me," Berman observed. "I've been spending much of my time lately in philosophy, psychology and sociology. I hope I can stay here with the books for a long time."

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST
(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

HOSTESS IS RESPONSIBLE
A letter tells me: "The other afternoon while playing bridge at my house, a guest tore her stocking on the edge of one of my chairs. As the chair had a rough edge on it, I feel responsible for her having torn it. Do you think I should buy her a new pair?"

If you knew the chair to be a menace and have done nothing about it, fairness certainly directs that you replace every torn stocking of your guests for however long you keep that unmened chair in use.

Return Address on Wedding Invitations

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine tells me that it is not proper to put a return address on wedding invitations. Is this true, and if so why isn't it proper to do so? Isn't there just as much chance of error in the sending of a wedding invitation as well as anything else? In fact, perhaps more so because ordinary letters we write are usually to personal friends whose addresses we know too well to mistake.

Answer: When you are in doubt about a person's address it is permissible and necessary to put your own address in the corner if you want to have the envelope returned by the post office. But when you are certain of the address, no return address is a requirement of formality, and wedding invitations are necessarily formal.

Thanks For Hospitality

Dear Mrs. Post: A group of girls were invited to spend the day at a friend's house in the country. We arrived about ten in the morning and left about nine o'clock at night. We spent a very enjoyable day. Some of the girls think that we should each write a bread and butter letter to our hostess. I don't think this is necessary. What is your opinion?

Answer: Although this is not an exacting, a note of appreciation is never a mistake. One letter written in the name of the group—especially if signed by all—would be sufficient.

Small weddings are popular. Mrs. Post has written leaflet E-8, "Today's Typical Wedding," describing the procedure. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. # Saugerties Routs Marlboro, 63-22, in UCAL Track Meet

Sawyers Get Near Sweep With 9 of 10

Saugerties High School thin-clads missed a clean sweep by one event (mile run) yesterday afternoon and routed Marlboro, 63½ to 22½, as Bill Zielman paced the Sawyers in three events. Saugerties placed first in nine of ten events.

Zielman led the 440-yard relay team, captured the broad jump and placed first in the 220-yard run.

Marlboro managed to avert a complete rout in the mile performance where Frank Stropinsky turned in a victory in 5 minutes, 11 seconds.

SOGGY TRACK conditions still prevail in this spring (?) weather with very little chance for the track men to show exceptional times as was evidenced in the 100-yard dash which was run in 11.5 seconds.

Patterson Jackson Are Signed

International Box Club moved yesterday to clarify the scrambled heavyweight picture when it signed Floyd Patterson and Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson for a 12-round elimination bout June 8 in Madison Square Garden.

The winner is expected to meet Archie Moore, world's light heavyweight champion and No. 1 heavyweight contender, for the crown vacated by Rocky Marciano.

EACH FIGHTER will receive a guarantee of $40,000. The bout will be nationally televised by the regular Friday night sponsor, who is being asked to put up a $75,000 TV, with no local blackout.

An impressive victory by either man would bring the so-called eliminations to the finals against Moore. The latter is scheduled to defend his light heavyweight crown against Yolande Pompey of Trinidad June 5 in London's Harrigay Arena.

Grays Hurler Wins Without Firing Pitch

(By The Associated Press)

Jackie Brown of the Williamsport Grays didn't toss a single pitch in last night's game with the Allentown Redbirds. But he was credited with his team's 3-1 victory.

He came to the aid of starter Dean Lakatosch with two on and two out in the eighth at Williamsport. Before making a pitch he picked Allentown's Wally Fassler off second, retiring the side. He was not called on to pitch again in the game.

Meanwhile the Reading Indians bowed to the last-place Johnstown Johnnies 7-6 in a 12-inning thriller at Johnstown that ended when Tommy Thomas' single drove in the winning Johnstown run.

AT ALBANY the Syracuse Chiefs reached four Senators' pitchers for 13 hits to win 10-3. The Williamsport victory gave them an undisputed hold on second place. They had been tied for the runner-up spot with Allentown and Reading. The Schenectady Blue Jays, whose scheduled home game with the Birmingham Triplets was postponed because of wet grounds, continued to lead the league.

New York city faces an acute shortage of bowling alleys in the next decade, George Woodward revealed at the KBA's 20th anniversary dinner.

The demand for new building and office space has resulted in the demolition of several tenpin landmarks of the past couple decades. The prospects for replacements are slim.

The modern bowler demands better parking facilities, too, and the borough of Manhattan has made it just as tough as possible not to get ample parking space. Thus the trend to huge bowling establishments with their adequate parking facilities in suburbs and along main highways. The mushrooming of the industry in north New Jersey is the best example of that trend.

"Ten years from now bowlers will be scrambling all over Manhattan trying to find alleys for their leagues," he said. "Eventually they will wind up in the suburbs. There is no other choice. Bowling operators have shown no desire to build large establishments in the city limits in recent years."

Flotsam and Jetsam:

One of the vagaries of the Petersen point system is that a man can win more games than the league leader and still lose the title. George Shufeldt, the disappearing tenpin captain, won 38½ games in the Singles Classic and finished third. John Ferraro, the champion, won 35½, two less than his brother, Buster, who scored 37½ victories to gain second place. But the Petersen puts emphasis on total pins knocked down which is still the essence of bowling. It awards one point for games won and a point for each 50 pins knocked down. Ferraro knocked down 12,276 pins in 60 games, Shufeldt 11,557. That's where the Petersen system takes charge.

Incidentally, Shufeldt and Tom Carlino, the new fathers, are passing out cigars. Mammie Colao's welcoming speech at the KBA dinner was spectacularly brief, thereby disappointing a host of customers who know he does much better in the barber shop on lower Broadway.

On the National Scene:

Newest American Bowling Congress amendments of interest to rank and file bowlers adopted at the ABC convention in Rochester included:

1. Authorizes plaques for sponsors of teams finishing second through 10th in ABC Open and Booster divisions.
2. Authorizes ABC sanctioned, for high scores recognition, of match games when a city, state, regional or organizational match game title is to be decided.
3. Grants continued free ABC membership to military personnel but now requires military personnel to pay ABC and association dues when bowling in non-military leagues.
4. Allows tournaments to schedule three doubles teams on a pair of alleys.

Withdrawn were amendments that would have (1) charged a foul if a bowler moved into the adjacent approach after delivering his ball, and (2) prohibited teams from having more than $3,000 sponsorships, more than two 200 average bowlers and more than one alley owners or employee.

Of Men and Mice:

Two of the KBA guests Saturday night were plugging forthcoming events. Bert Rhea, Hudson Valley League secretary and first vice-president of the Kingston Bowling Association, said the Poughkeepsie Bowling Association expects to field between 300 and 350 for the state event at the Bridge City next year. John O. Martino of Syracuse had the welcome mat out for the 1958 nationals at the Salt City which last hosted the event in 1935. The ABC tournament is big business and still a tremendous plum for Chambers of Commerce. No less than 15 cities are bidding for the 1959 event, among them Buffalo, St. Louis, Toledo, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Louisville, Miami, Miami Beach, Detroit, Grand Rapids, New York, Charlotte, N. C. and Little Rock. President Frank Mittel of Detroit revealed strong pressure among some elements to create an "Open" division at the ABC nationals. Many bowlers and officials in the field complain that the present regulations pitting 170 average bowlers against the nation's hotshots without handicap is unfair. "There is nothing on the immediate horizon to change that rule," Mittel said, "but it's bound to come sooner or later."

Members of the championship team are Bessie Lynn, Peggy Rosinski, Charlotte Herdman, Mildred Mackey and Marie Bechtold.

MARIE BECHTOLD, the high average leader, led the last night of action with 480 on lines of 175, 139 and 166.

Mantle Plays Ball Just One Game at a Time

New York, May 10 (AP)—Mickey Mantle is unconcerned, almost bored, by talk of his being baseball's next 400 hitter and the one most likely to break Babe Ruth's home run record of 60.

The young dynamic slugger of the New York Yankees says with a poker face that goals, records or personal ambitions never enter his mind as he goes about his duties day after day.

He must be aware of the stir he has created by his spectacular slugging but if he is, he has given no sign of it.

"Yes, I've read all those stories," Mantle murmured. "But I pay no attention to them. Let them compare me with anyone they please. That doesn't bother me a bit. It certainly doesn't affect my playing. I just go out there every day and try to do the best I can."

MANTLE WAS sitting in front of his locker before yesterday's Cleveland game, busily engaged in bandaging his left thigh. The right leg, from below the knee clear up near the groin, already was encased in yards of tape and bandages. Below the calf on the right leg there was a big ugly welt and the big toe was discolored and puffed up alarmingly.

"I fouled a pitch off the toe Tuesday," he explained. "It's quite painful. That bruise up there also came from a foul tip—in Baltimore. This bandage here is for a muscle I pulled high up in the left leg. I've had this tape on my right leg all season. That hamstring muscle I pulled near the end of last season still bothers me a bit."

C. M. Thomas Printers keggers, anchored by the redoubtable Ernie Magnusson, travelled extra innings to defeat Vogel's Dairy in last night's Independent League championship playoff at the Central Recs.

With Magnusson and his rival anchor, Charlie Grunenwald, somewhat below par the team split the first two games and then tied at 8-7 in the finale.

This necessitated a sudden death extra frame. The Printers won it handily, 8-7. Joe Messenger, Ray DuBois and Magnusson fired 20 counts, Harold Smith filled with 19 and Ward DuBois, high man of the match, contributed nine. Grunenwald was Vogel's only 20-pin man in the extra frame.

WARD DUBOIS took up the slack created by his father's difficulties, and some inept trundling by Magnusson not in the high traditions of the Magnificent Swede by splashing a 594 series on games of 200, 142 and 252. The latter slam featured a seven-timer.

Joe Messenger spilled 542 in the leadoff slot for the new winners. Don McConnell fired 556 and Gene Vogel 532 for the losers. Ward DuBois, incidentally, was the only bowler on either side with a 200 game.

The score:

	Vogel's Dairy (1)
Don Vogel	167	160
Don McConnell	171	135
Blind	161	161
Gene Vogel	191	172

The Associated Press

Charlie Maxwell, a 29-year-old nomad, has been in professional baseball since 1947 and he has yet to spend as much as two complete seasons with one team.

He has been in and out of the majors three times and has played with five different minor league clubs. But it's just possible that he finally has found himself a home with the Detroit Tigers.

A muscular left-handed swinger, Maxwell was tabbed for utility duty before the season started. Jim Delsing and Chick King were the left field platooners. But now King has departed, Delsing hasn't produced and as of today Maxwell is practically in full charge of left field.

HIS TWO-RUN homer in last night's 7-3 decision over the Washington Senators didn't hurt any. Neither did his two homers Tuesday. He has hit six all told and is batting .377, third in the American League.

If he can prove to Manager Bucky Harris he can hit left-handers, he'll be around the Bengal outfield a long time. All of which isn't bad for a fellow who owns a lifetime batting average of only .224 who's main previous claim to fame was that when he was the property of the Boston Red Sox he filled in several times for Ted Williams.

The Tigers still are in the league basement, but they are beginning to show some life. Al Kaline chipped in with another two-run homer and Frank House contributed a bases-loaded triple. So long as they can get the long ball—their main weapon—the Tigers won't be out of it.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Cleveland Indians finally stopped the New York Yankees 6-5; the Red Sox crushed the Chicago White Sox

7-5 and the Kansas City A's whipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-0 behind Art Ditmar's 7-inning.

ONLY TWO games were played in the National League. Tom Poholsky whitewashed the Philadelphia Phillies for the St. Louis Cardinals 3-0 and the Cincinnati Redlegs edged the New York Giants 6-5.

The Chicago-Brooklyn and Milwaukee-Pittsburgh games were rained out. For the Braves, the postponement marked their eighth in the last two weeks.

If nothing else, the manner in which the Yanks dropped their game to the Indians proved Casey Stengel's men were human. That is something the rest of the American League was beginning to doubt.

With the score tied, 5-5, and one out in the ninth inning, Chico Carrasquel lifted a routine fly to center field. Mickey Mantle parked under it, but the ball bounced out of his glove.

The Tribe shortstop moved to second on an infield out, then went all the way home when relief pitcher Tom Morgan made a bad throw to first on Jira Busby's tap in front of the plate. Morgan took the loss.

Herb Score, who came out on the losing end of two 1-0 games last month, was the winner, although Don Mossi finished up for him.

THE RED SOX victory pulled them to within 2½ games of the Yanks, a half-game ahead of the Indians. The triumph was their sixth in their last seven games.

Dave Sisler, son of the Hall of Famer George Sisler, protected a two-run lead when he came on in the eighth inning, with one out and the bases loaded with Pale Hose. He threw just five pitches, fanning Nellie Fox and getting Minnie Minoso on a fly.

Kansas City jumped into fifth place by its victory over Baltimore and in the process broke two streaks. It shattered the Orioles' four-game skein, and administered the season's first defeat to Jim Wilson, after the veteran righthander had won three.

Poholsky now has hurled three brilliant games in a row for the Cards. In crushing the Phillies, he was nipped for only four hits and now has permitted just 14 hits and one run in 26 innings. His record reads 3-0.

Herm Wehmeier, who probably should stop trying to lick the Cards, was tagged with the defeat. He has yet to beat the Redbirds in his major league career. He has tried 14 times.

Reliever Bud Freeman was credited with the Cincinnati victory over the Giants, when the Redlegs pushed across two runs in the seventh inning to go ahead to stay. Joe Nuxhall, the Redlegs' No. 1 pitcher last year, failed to go the route. He has yet to win a game.

The Redlegs scored their two winning runs the hard way—two singles, two walks, a sacrifice, an error and forceout.

Charge Player With Assault At Richmond

Rochester, May 10 (AP)—Police here today held a warrant charging outfielder Vic Marasco of the Richmond Virginians in the International Baseball League with third-degree assault.

The warrant was signed yesterday by City Judge James F. Sheehan on a complaint by a 20-year-old baseball fan, Edward Ertle.

Another complaint by Ertle's brother, John, 24, was filed too late to be acted upon by the court.

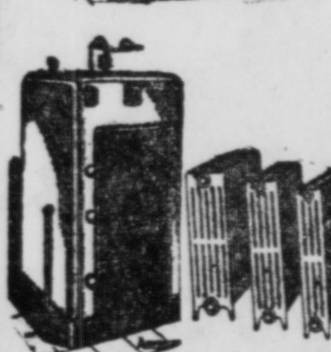

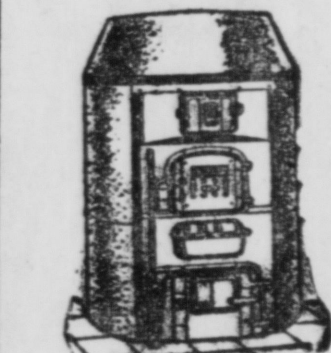

Edward Ertle claimed that he was assaulted Tuesday night during a melee in the bleachers when Marasco allegedly led a group of Richmond players into the stands to regain possession of a baseball.

Police said they attempted to serve the warrant on the 27-year-old player from Los Angeles last night but found that he had checked out of the team's hotel.

The authorities quoted Eddie Lopat, Richmond manager, as saying only that Marasco had left.

Colonials Plan Second Drill Sunday at Stadium

Manager Rates Prospects Good For '56 Season 35 Players Reported For Initial Workout

Bogged down by bad weather, the Kingston Colonials are looking forward to two, perhaps three, major workouts before the New York-New Jersey League opener May 27 at Paterson.

More than 30 players greeted Manager Fred Davi's first call for tryouts last Saturday and the quality of material on hand prompted the veteran Glasco mentor to enthuse about 1956. The next workout is scheduled Sunday at Dietz stadium.

"It looks like we'll have good pitching and hitting and the overall picture is a lot brighter than it was a year ago," he said.

DAVI WAS high on Ed Murphy, an IBM employee who is an experienced pitcher.

"Murphy looks like the kind of guy who can help us," Davi continued. "I'm also looking for steady work from Bruce Bechtold, Bob Maines, Jack Houghtaling and Joe Benjamin Jr." All four pitchers mentioned by Davi are county high school graduates.

Top infield prospect appears to be Jimmy Scatch, property of the Pittsburgh Pirates who is yet unassigned and probably will know his future in the next few days. If he doesn't go into minor league ball, Scatch is a sure bet to be in the starting lineup.

LOCAL PLAYERS who took part in the drill included Joe Modica, Jim and Don Ferraro, Paul Giannuzzi, John Gowdin, Steve Cea, Mickey Sweeney of Ellenville and hard hitting Tom Carlino.

"We're still anxious to look over any local players who want to try for the team," Davi said. "We'll practice this Sunday (May 13) and the following Sunday (May 20)."

The Colonials open at home on June 9 against the Brooklyn Windors.

DAVI IS manager of the Colonials at the moment but a top name field leader will be appointed before the season gets under way.

"I'm dickering with the Yankee organization for a name manager," he revealed, "but nothing definite has developed. However, the negotiations are still continuing and something might break in the near future." It has been rumored that George Stirmweiss, wartime Yankee second sacker and American League batting champion, is Davi's No. 1 choice.

Needles Arrives For Preakness

Baltimore, May 9 (AP)—A welcoming committee of 100, including several school children, greeted Needles upon his arrival from Kentucky for the May 19 Preakness at Pimlico.

The Kentucky Derby winner showed no concern while being transferred from a railroad car to a truck for transportation to the track.

"He shipped a lot better than I did," reported the colt's groom, Joe Rutter. "He just kept nibbling hay and oats and even seemed to enjoy the trip."

With 1929 as 100, Mexico now has a population index of 174 compared with 134 for the United States and 120 for Europe.

NFA Rookie Stops Port 9 In DUSO, 5-3

Lenny Henderson made a successful debut as a pitcher for Newburgh Free Academy yesterday, beating Port Jervis High 5-3 in a DUSO League contest at Port.

Henderson, who divided his time catching and playing the outfield last season, made one bad pitch in the game and first baseman Alex Oswick clubbed it for a three-run homer in the second. The righthander then settled down and blanketed the Red Raiders the rest of the way, scattering eight hits. He struck out six and walked only one.

NFA won the game in the fifth, snapping a 3-3 tie with two runs. Henderson slapped home the winning Margin with a single that scored Al Beccaccio from second. Fred Ronke replaced starter Joe Regelski at this juncture and walked three batters to force in Newburgh's last run.

REGELSKI returned to the mound in the sixth and finished up. He was tagged for six hits and passed five and fanned six.

The win was the Goldbacks second in three games and kept them in second place behind Poughkeepsie High. Port is 0-2 and tied for last with Kingston, Newburgh ..... 210 020 0-5 Port Jervis ..... 030 000 0-3

Yesterday's Stars (By The Associated Press)

PITCHING: Tom Poholsky, Cardinals—Chalked up his 3rd straight victory with a 4-hit 3-0 shutout over the Phillies. He fanned five and did not issue a base on balls.

BATTING: Billy Goodman, Red Sox—banged out four hits, including three doubles, in five at-bats to help Boston beat White Sox 7-5.

Baker Eliminates Holman From Heavyweight Trials

Miami Beach, Fla., May 10 (AP) — The heavyweight title picture was slightly less clouded today after Bob Baker's slashing victory over John Holman, but what will happen next appears to be anybody's guess.

Baker, the Pittsburgh giant, pounded out a unanimous decision over Holman, the slow-motion Chicago boxer, last night in a 12-round bout billed as the first in a tournament to determine the successor to the retired heavyweight champion, Rocky Marciano.

LATER, BAKER'S manager, Dusty Bette, said he had a promise from the International Boxing Club that his fighter would be matched in the second round of the eliminations with the winner of a Floyd Patterson-Hurricane Jackson bout scheduled for June 8 in Madison Square Garden.

Reports from New York, however, indicated that the Patterson-Jackson winner might meet Archie Moore for the championship.

Moore, the ancient ruler of the light heavyweight division, is listed as the No. 1 heavy in the current ring ratings. Jackson is ranked second, Baker third, Holman fourth and Patterson fifth.

last night's fight eased the traffic jam of title contenders by eliminating Holman.

BLEEDING heavily from a cut over the left eye, Holman was almost a pathetic figure as he plodded after Baker in the late rounds, trying to land a blow that could overcome Baker's mounting margin of superiority.

By far the better boxer, Baker rushed Holman's eye in the sixth round and kept the wound open by pumping in a steady succession of jolting rights and lefts to the sluggish Holman's face.

Referee Jimmy Peierles gave Baker the fight, 119-114, under a point system that awards 10 to the winner of each round and nine or less to the loser. Judge Ed Thal voted it 117-114. Judge Stu Winston 117-112, and the Associated Press 118-113.

Baker weighed 211 pounds, Holman 206.

Three Tainted Tallies Help Sawyer Nine

Dick Elliott fashioned a neat three-hitter for the Saugerties High School Jayvees yesterday while the Kingston yearlings contributed a nightmarish five-error first inning to give the Jayvees a 4-1 victory.

Three of the four Sawyer runs were unearned and Paul Celuch's respectable six-hit performance was overshadowed by these malfeasances.

THE SKY fell in during a wild fielding spree which included a passed ball on a third strike, a wild pickoff attempt, a single and two infield errors.

Elliott was in command all the way, yielding Kingston's lone run in the fourth inning. Short's double was the only extra-base hit he gave up.

The victory was the second for the Sawyers against one defeat.

Ike Comments

Washington, May 10 (AP) — President Eisenhower, asked if he had any personal preference between state and private construction of the Niagara Falls power project, replied yesterday he didn't think he could give a yes-or-no answer. He added, he generally favors allowing a state to determine the kind of development it wants. Eisenhower was asked at his news conference if he saw any urgency for Congress to complete action this year on Niagara power legislation. He replied: "If they need the power, they need it. So why fool around? Why not get to work and go do it?"

.008 Points Aren't Too Many But Just Enough for Otto

Ray Otto won individual average honors in the Rosendale News National league by a bare .008 of a point over Don Christiana.

In the closest duel of the 1955-56 season, Otto posted a 167.404 figure for 99 games and Christiana had 167.396 for 101 sets. They just don't come any closer.

Christiana salvaged a measure of glory, however, by taking both individual marks with 263 and 620. Augustine's, the fourth place squad, hit 959 and 2662 team marks.

Teachers Lose Game and Book At Danbury

Somewhere between Danbury, Conn., and New Paltz there is a scorebook which gives a detailed account of yesterday's ball game between Danbury State Teachers College and New Paltz Teachers. The book became lost in transit after New Paltz lost the game, 9-2.

Although the boxscore is not available it may be stated that Nick Ventre, Danbury's pitcher, did not lose his book on the New Paltz hitters. His references to it sufficed for him to toss a superb two-hitter.

He struck out seven and issued 10 walks. Joe Gardiner and Allan Levine combined to allow nine hits and nine bases on balls.

New Paltz picked up its two runs on four walks and an infield single.

Wet Weather Covers Broad Areas of U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

Wet weather was the outlook today for broad areas in the northern half of the country from the North Atlantic coast to the far west.

Showers and thunderstorms continued during the night from Lake Michigan eastward across the Great Lakes region and upper Ohio valley to the north Atlantic coast. Heaviest rainfall was in northern parts of Illinois and Indiana, Ohio and southern lower Michigan. Falls at Grand Rapids, Mich., measured more than 4 inches in 24 hours while they ranged from 1 to 2 inches in other parts of the wet belt. Scattered showers extended over wide areas west of the Continental Divide. Showers also were reported eastward across the Rockies into the Dakotas and Nebraska, while thunderstorms hit northern and eastern Nebraska and northern Utah. Electrical storms, with rain and hail, last night hit areas from Wyoming and Montana into the Pacific northwest, California and Nevada.

Eden Under Attack For Frogman Mystery

London, May 10 (AP)—Laborites launched a major parliamentary attack on Prime Minister Eden today for failing to clear up the British frogman mystery. Newspapers of various political views also called on Eden to tell what happened to Cmdr. Lionel (Buster) Crabb, the driver who disappeared April 19 near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze in Portsmouth Harbor.

Eden found himself projected into the eye of a political storm. Public interest in the case appeared to be building up rather than diminishing. The powerful and independent Times thundered that this was "an unsavory affair."

In Parliament and out, Eden's refusal to discuss the case in the House of Commons yesterday was interpreted — rightly or wrongly — as meaning that Crabb was operating on secret service orders and lost his life while trying to spy out underwater secrets of the 12,800-ton Ordzhonikidze. The cruiser brought Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev on their visit to Britain last month.

The admiralty has said Crabb, 46, is presumed dead, but thus far his body has not been recovered.

92 New Polio Cases Reported

Washington, May 10 (AP)—There were 92 new polio cases reported last week. This was an increase of 18 over the week ended April 29, and compares with 149 in the corresponding 1955 week.

Since about April 1 there have been 395 cases, compared with 536 in the similar 1955 span. A PUBLIC HEALTH spokesman, however, reiterated the statement he made last week that "it is too early" to attempt any guesses as to what this may signify for the rest of the year.

Health service officials also say they don't think anyone can yet tell whether use of Salk vaccine is causing any drop in cases. The spokesman noted that the last two weekly totals of 74 and 92 cases have been exactly the same as those for the corresponding weeks in 1952.

A SEVERE outbreak starting in July 1952 made that year the record one for polio with about 57,000 cases.

He also noted that even though there were 149 cases in the corresponding 1955 week, the eventual total for the year was around 29,000, little more than half the 1952 total.

Interim Report Is Made by Group On Flood Control

A 116-page interim report has just been published by the Ulster County Flood Control Advisory Committee based on the results of county-wide flood studies during the period December 12, 1955, to March 15, 1956. The advisory committee, with H. Edgar Timmerman as chairman and Albert Kurtz as secretary, was appointed by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors following the disastrous area floods of last August and October.

Highlights of the compilation have appeared in The Freeman periodically as meetings were held.

Members of the advisory committee besides Maj. Timmerman and Mr. Kurtz are William C. Rose, vice chairman; Johan A. Aalto, A. J. Anderson, Claude Bell, W. Morton Bertrand, Edward C. Craig, Fred DuBois, Bernard A. Feeney, Roland Green, James A. Guttridge, Edward M. Huben, Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., Irving Kauder, Jay LeFevre, Burton Marshall, Frank Matthews, Albert E. Milliken, Henry Millonig, George Mollenhauer, Joseph E. O'Connor, Harry Snyder and Donald Sprague.

Soper Is Elected To School Study Group Committee

Earl Soper, superintendent of Kingston Schools, was elected to the executive committee of the Mid-Hudson Schools Study Council at a Wednesday afternoon and evening session of the group held at State University Teachers College at New Paltz.

Also named to the seven-man committee was William Landauer, member of Red Hook School board.

More than 200 teachers from 41 school systems in the Mid-Hudson area attended the general spring meeting. Civil War author, John Brick of Putnam Valley, spoke on the topic, "Johnny Can Read Better Than Some People Think." He cited that juvenile book publishers are selling more books today than ever before in history.

In his address he criticized the people for not appropriating more money for education. He said, "No consideration is too expensive for our children and those who teach them."

Fluoridation Topic At Ulster Kiwanis

Warren J. Sussin, a Kingston chiropractor, was guest speaker at the Ulster Kiwanis meeting held at the Airport Inn Tuesday evening. Attorney Louis A. DiDonna presented the speaker, who discussed the dangers of artificial fluoridation of water supplies in an attempt to reduce tooth decay.

In his talk he brought out the important difference between natural and artificial fluorides. He described the chemistry in the composition of teeth and how artificial fluorides damage teeth by creating brittleness and causing disease within the living structure of teeth. Persons living in fluoridated areas begin showing a brownish stain called mottling which is the start of fluorosis, a dental disease. These people lose their teeth before middle age after spending hundreds of dollars trying to remove these unsightly stains.

President John Vines presided at the meeting. Final plans and preparations for the town of Ulster Sport and Leisure Show were discussed by Charles Rinschler.

Unhatched Fish Count

LaJolla, Calif. (AP)—It's all right to count fish before they're hatched. In fact, it's the thing today, says Dr. H. C. Hardy, English marine biologist. The Oxford university authority on fishery predictions told an international symposium: "We can count fish by counting fish eggs. This is so, not because we can predict how many eggs will become fish, but because the number of eggs is an accurate indicator of how many fish there are in the breeding stock."
